MUNIFICIENT GIFT.

Mrs. Mary Cummings Gives Wilbur House to Packer Hospital

INCOME ABOUT $5,000 A YEAR.

Legatee of the Estate Owning Large Hotel Property in Sayre Gives it to the Institution in Honor of Her Brother.

The Wilbur House property in Sayre now belongs to the Robert Packer hospital. The deed transferring the property from the estate of the late R. A. Packer to the hospital was executed Friday afternoon and was delivered to the trustees of the hospital last evening.

The Wilbur House property is deeded to the trustees to hold in trust as an endowment forever, the earnings of the building to be applied to the maintanance of the hospital. This means that between $4,000 and $5,000 will be added to the hospital's income each year.

The deed includes not only the hotel property but also the store room occupied by H. D. Jump, one of the most valuable locations in Sayre, the store room occupied by G. J. Bolton & Bros., haberdashery establishment, the room occupied by G. F. Beloud & Co.'s shoe store, the room occupied by F. W. G. Bartlett's jewelry store and the one story structure occupied by I. A. & C. R. Williams' grocery store. It is estimated that this entire property is worth over $50,000. The deed transferring the property from the estate to the hospital was signed by Mrs. Mary Packer Cummings, legatee of her brother, the late R. A. Packer and also D. J. Pearsall and J. H. Williams, trustees of the estate.

About two years ago Mrs. Cummings visited Robert Packer hospital. After thoroughly investigating the work being done there, after ascertaining the amount of physical suffering that is relieved at the institution she announced that she would consider endowing the hospital. Soon afterwards she decided to give the income of the Wilbur House property to the institution and then announced that the time would probably come when she would deed the whole property to the hospital trustees. That time has now come.

Mrs. Cummings has for years given valuable assistance to the hospital. She desired that the memory of her brother be perpetuated and thus gave liberally and often to the institution which bears his name. The last gift of Mrs. Cummings is the most valuable. The Wilbur House has been in the hands of the Packer family for many years. It is the most vaulable piece of private property in Sayre and all the friends of the hospital will be delighted to hear that Mrs. Cummings has decided to give the hotel structure as a hospital endowment. The trustees, according to the terms of the deed are to hold the building in trust, the earnings to be devoted to hospital purposes and should the time come when the trustees find it advisable to sell the building, then the money received from the sale shall be invested and theincome applied for the maintenance of the hospital. In other words the hospital trustees will not be able to expend the principal, that must be kept intact but the earnings from the principal will be applied to the needs of the hospital.

The Wilbur House has in the past leased for $300 per month and it is probable that the trustees will increase the rental for many repairs have recently been made to the hostelry. A. R. Wood is at present occupying the hotel but he will vacate on Nov., 1, and in the meantime the trustees will arrange to rent to some man who acting as proprietor will place the Wilbur House on a basis far superior to the past.

At the same time the deed for the hotel building was given, Mrs. Cummings and the trustees of the estate also gave a deed to the hospital for the land located between the southern end of the male ward and the property now occupied by C. W. Kinney. This land has since the time the former home of R. A. Packer was converted into a hospital been a part of the grounds surrounding that institution. In fact but few people knew that the hospital did not own the plot. But it has belonged all these years to the Packer estate. The hospital trustees are now preparing to erect an adition to the hospital to extend southward from the present male ward and this made it necessary to use a part of the plot of ground until today owned by the estate.

Now that the deed for the plot has been given to the trustees of the hospital, the contracts for the addition can be awarded.—Times-Record.

Financial Condition of Tioga County.

In 1896 the bonded debt of Tioga county was $165,000. In 11 years it has been reduced $129,000, leaving a bonded debt the present fiscal year of only $36,000. During the last two years the county commissioners have reduced the debt by about $24,000 and expect to reduce it by about 14,000 this year.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

P. O. S. of A. Members Had Good Time at New Albany

TO MEET AT LAQUIN NEXT YEAR

Nine of the Eleven Camps in the County Represented, Together With Representatives From Three Other Places.

The annual county convention of the P. O. S. of A. was held at New Albany Friday and a most enjoyable time was had. Nine of the 11 camps in the county were represented, together with representatives from Bernice and Ricketts, and also Waverly. There were about 275 members of the order in attendance

The business meeting presided over by President George Patterson of Sayre, was held in P. O. S. of A. hall in the morning and in addition to the transaction of routine business, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—A. G. Dorne, Athens.

Vice President—L. K. Williams, Franklindale.

Master of Forms—A. R. Brutzman, Towanda.

Recording Secretary—H. E. Crayton, Sayre.

Financial Secretary—H. E. Hager, Grover.

Conductor—C. Marcy, Sayre.

Inspector—Frank Perry, Athens.

Guard—C. W. Franklin, Laqnin.

Laquin, the thriving little lumber town which has a flourishing lodge of the Patriotic Sons, was decided upon as the place for holding the convention next year.

Dinner was served the delegates at the hotel, and by the Aid society of the churches, and at private residences. The dinner hour was very enjoyable, everyone being in a happy mood.

In the afternoon the parade, the feature of the convention, was held. Nearly three hundred men were in line, and marched to the splendid music of the New Albany band, and the drum corps from Towanda and Sayre. After the parade, a meeting was held in the park and the address of the day was delivered by Rev. Mr. Cook of Picture Rocks. He delivered an excellent patriotic discourse, which was listened to very closely. President elect A. G. Dorne of Sayre, and A. R. Brutzman of Towanda, and retiring president George Patterson of Sayre, also made brief addresses.

The delegates all left on the evening trains, and at dusk New Albany had regained its customary quietness. The delegates speak in the highest terms of the kind treatment and hospitality afforded by the people of the convention town.

LEHIGH PAYS TAXES.

Two Checks of $17,229.72 Each Received by Sayre Tax Collector.

The largest sum ever paid at one time for taxes in Bradford county was on Thursday turned over to Assistant Tax Collector Plumstead of Sayre, by the Lehigh Valley R. R., for the big new shops in that place. Two checks of $17,229.72 each were turned over and have been placed to the credit of Sayre borough in the banks in that village.

The amount received by Sayre will be divided into the following items: For borough purposes $11,701; for sewer purposes, to apply on bonds, $1170.10; for school purposes $11,701; for school building purposes $2340.20; these amounts being subject to a discount of five per cent.

The amount received for borough purposes will more than half pay for the town hall which Sayre has been longing for, and which council can now proceed to ask for bids on for they can bond the town for the necessary amount to place with the Lehigh taxes and pay for the new building.

The Borough of Sayre and the School District of Sayre will not alone be benefitted. The county will receive $7020, minus the discount and the poor of the county will receive $2390.20 minus the discount.

The original amount of the taxation was $36,273.10 and by paying Thursday instead of Friday the Lehigh saved $1,813.65. There are no strings of any kind attached to the payment of the taxes, and they are not paid under protest. There is still a large amount of money due from the Lehigh for taxes on other property owned in Sayre. The Lehigh owns houses and lands in Sayre and these have for years been subject to taxation. On these houses and lands the taxes have not been paid yet, but a check covering the amount will probably be forthcoming within a short time.

PLAINTIFF VICTORIOUS

Amicable Lawsuit Between Park Brothers Comes to a Close.

THE TRIAL LASTED FOUR DAYS.

Jury's Verdict is in Favor of Plaintiff, Sumner Park, Who Brought the Suit to Determine Ownership of Piece of Woodland.

One of the longest and most interesting civil cases ever heard in the Bradford County court of Common Pleas, came to an end Tuesday evening, when the jury which heard the evidence in the Mercur Park vs. Sumner Park, an ejectment action, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Mercur Park.

The suit arose out of the estate of Benjamin parks, who has been dead a number of years and was a contest between two sons, Sumner and Mercur Park, as to who is the owner of a piece of woodland.

Before his death Benjamin Park owned a large tract of land laying in New york and Pennsylvania, near the state line, called his children together and apportioned his land and they then entered into possession. Mercur's land lay in Pennsylvania, and it contains a wood lot upon which a quantity of timber is growing, which at the present time is not very valuable, but will become so in time. Sumner claimed that he owned the tract through a deed given by his father to him subsequent to the parol gift of the sons. Some time ago Sumner Park entered the land which is a long distance from his own farm and began to cut the timber. The brother Mercur secured an injunction prohibiting this, and so at the suggestion of the judge an amicable action in ejectment was instituted. An issue was framed by agreement of the parties and the ownership of the land was tried out upon the issue.

The case came on for trial last Thursday, and was given to the jury Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and a verdict reached just before adjournment in the evening. The plaintiff, who has been awarded a verdict, based his claims on the fact that his father deeded him the woodland in 1900, since which time he has been assessed with it, and has paid the taxes thereon since receiving the deed. The defendant, Sumner Park, contended that the deed had never been given to his brother, Mercur Park.

A strange, yet pleasing feature of the hotly contested suit is the fact that Mercur and Sumner the two brothers who were at law, did not let the case come between them, and their usual warm brotherly love was in evidence all the while, and now after the decision has been reached by the jury, their kinship affections remain intact.

William Maxwell and I. McPherson represented the plaintiff, Mercur Park while R. A. Mercur and L. T. Hoyt looked after the interests of the defendant, Sumner Park.

TWO SWEETHEARTS WERE SNATCHED FROM WOMAN.

Cruel Hand of Death Twice Prevented Marriage of Girl.

Two lovers snatched from her by the cruel hand of fate on the eve of her wedding day in less than a year's time, was the remarkable but pathetic experience of Josephine Lalulka, a comely Polish maiden of Edwardsville, and believing that a specter of death is following her it is unlikely if she will ever again be betrothed.

Joseph Urban, who was to be a partner in a wedding in a little church across the river Tuesday cannot fulfill his promise to Miss Lalulka, for death has put asunder that culmination. He was ground to pieces by a Lehigh Valley train Friday night while returning from the distribution of invitations to his wedding.

On the day preceding her marriage 12 months ago a former lover was crushed to death by a rock fall in the Woodward mine and this link in the unfortunate tragedy makes the lot of the maiden all th more sad.

Farmer Suicides.

Fred G. Pearl, a prosperous and well known farmer, living in the Red Brush district, town of Nichols and about five miles southwest of Owego, took his own life at about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon by hanging himself in a small Summer wood shed, attached to the rear of the house. His act is attributed to despondency.

AS IN DAYS OF OLD

Marshview Men are as Chivalrous as Knights of Ancient Times.

CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL FISHING

Three Men and Woman Arrested For Capturing Fish Contrary to Law—Woman Discharged, Men Refusing to Implicate Her.

Through the chivalry of three men, the first woman to be arrested for a violation of the game laws in Bradford county was discharged by 'Squire Orcutt Saturday afternoon. The three men who refused to implicate her, in ten days will know whether or not they are considered guilty, the 'Squire having reserved his decision for that length of time.

Wallace Bedford, George Braker, John Russell and Mrs. Electa Green all of Marshview, were arrested on complaint of Special Fish Warden P. H. Nichols, on a charge of violating the fish laws, alleging that they drained a portion of what is known as Morley pond at Marshview and captured a number of pickerel and other fish. The pond is on land owned by Mrs. Green, and it is alleged she assisted in the draining.

The four were given a hearing before 'Squire Orcutt Saturday afternoon, Lilley & Wilson attorneys for the state game and fish commissioner represented the prosecution, while J. C. Ingham and W. E. Lane, Esq., appeared for the defendants.

The men denied catching fish illegally, but offered no evidence to further their defense, being satisfied to allow the prosecution to prove its contentions. They absolutely refused to implicate Mrs. Green in any way, and as there was no evidence to be had which would connect her with the alleged violation of the fish laws, she was discharged.

The hearing of the case occupied the attention of 'Squire Orcutt the greater part of Saturday, and owing to the many points involved, he reserved his decision for ten days. The case has created great interest in Terry township in the vicinity of Marshview, a large number of people of that neighborhood being in attendance at the hearing.

SENSATIONAL MARRIAGE.

Accomplished Mansfield Young Lady Marries an Italian.

About a week ago one of the most sensational marriages in Elmira in many a day took place when Miss Fannie, the eldest daughter of Attorney and Mrs. F. W. Clark of Mansfield, became the wife of an Italian who gave his name as Frank Frear.

Miss Clark, or Mrs. Frear, is an accomplished young woman, the daughter of prominent Mansfield people. She is a talented musician and well educated. As a result of overwork and study her mind is at times affected and it is reasonably presumed that she was not herself when she committed the rash act.

The couple went to the home of the Rev. James A. Miller, pastor of the Franklin street Presbyterian church, and asked to be married. Though the case had its unusual features the pastor was satisfied that he was doing nothing wrong in performing the ceremony.

All questions were answered satisfactorily, the ages were right and apparently the matter was one which was solely the business of the participating parties. So the marriage took place.

Frear, it is thought, is a common laboring Italian, possibly of good reputation and standing, but even that does not remove the remorse of the parents or alter the situation.

The bride of the unbalanced match is about 28 years of age. She is well known in Mansfield and vicinity. Mr. Clark, the father of the girl, is a prominent citizen, one of the foremost attorneys and is clerk of the Mansfield borough council and of the board of health. The parents are prostrated over the occurrence and will seek to set the marriage aside.

The Rev. Mr. Miller, in speaking of the affair, stated that he believed there was nothing wrong with the couple and expressed much regret that the incident occurred. He has expressed the same sentiment to the parents and is giving his services to do what can be done to right the affair.

The New Bank.

The magnificent structure of the Grange National bank of Wyoming county, at Laceyville, is building very rapidly. Z. W. Keech, contractor, of Athens, had charge of the brick work and by the looks of it Keech and his men know something about "juggling brick and slinging mort." Whipple Brothers, who have general supervision of building, will push the job rapidly only giving sufficient time for the different mechanics to do their work well. The bank will be ready for operation about Nov. 1.—Laceyville Messenger.

BIG FAIR IS OPENED.

Every Inch of Available Space Is Occupied With Fine Exhibits

COUNTY'S BEST EXHIBITION.

Products of the Farm, Home, and Merchants' Wares Eclipse Anything Ever Displayed at a Fair in This Section.

If anyone has an idea that 1907 has been a poor year for crops in Bradford county, they should visit the fair at East Towanda today. Not in years has there been such a fine exhibit in all departments, nor the classes so well filled. Every available stall is filled with horses and cattle and the pens for sheep and swine are fairly overflowing with splendid specimens from the farms of the county.

Among the larger and more notable exhibits of cattle are 12 Shorthorns from the G. H. Welles Grovedale herd at Wyalusing. One bull in the lot weighs an even ton.

C. F. Byers of Shepardstown, W. Va., shows 14 head of Shorthorns.

A. S. Worden of Frederick, Md., exhibits 12 Devonshires and 10 Holsteins; L. O. and F. P. Vannoy of East Troy, show 20 fine Jerseys.

Spring Brook farm, Apalachin, N. Y., makes a fine display of Shropshire sheep.

M. A. Middaugh, Towanda, has displayed 15 carriages, top and open, steel and rubber tired. E. Doane also has 15 Cortland and Mifflinburg carriages, and in addition shows harness, robes, blankets and whips.

The exhibit of machinery is small. S. W. Horton of Hornbrook, shows a gasoline engine and grain separator. Fred Wheaton of Rome, explains the merits of the Champion syrup evaporator.

In the Buildings.

The Woman's Building presents a fine appearance, the display of fancy and art work being large. Here H. L. Holcombe shows fine china and sells post cards. M. C. Wells has a big display of pianos, organs, sewing machines and phonographs. Turner's drug store shows several specialties of their manufacture. In the center of the building is a beautiful display of flowers, one of the largest single exhibits being A. Head of Towanda.

Dye & Bresee, as usual, have their building filled with stoves, cream separators, kitchen utensils, etc.

The Agricultural Building makes a handsome showing. Central grange, No. 194, of Shores Hill, and Wysauking grange, No. 54 of Wysox, each make large displays of farm products. In this building C. B. Eastabrooks of Orwell township, is one of the largest single exhibitors, showing honey, beeswax, maple sugar and syrup, and over 40 varieties of potatoes.

At the North end of the grandstand is located the Spalding Hardware company, with a big exhibit of Andes, Dockash and Garland ranges, and heating stoves, tin and enamel ware. With them are J. V. Peck, of the Michigan Stove company, and J. W. Barker of the Philips & Clark Stove company.

A .D. Hatch shows harness, robes and blankets. The Welles & Davis Manufacturing company, of Wyalusing, show grocers' specialties—pickle jars and banana stands.

The Wyalusing Embroidery company has an exhibit of their goods that attracts much attention. They show a large line.

Smith Brothers show their usual fine line of furniture.

D. T. Evans makes a beautiful display of ladies' coats and furs, rugs, and carpets.

U. S. cream separators are shown here by F. C. Robertson, and the National Mutual Relief association has a booth.

One of the most attractive exhibits on the grounds is the four-horse team of the Stegmaier Brewing company of Wilkes-Barre. These four beautiful gray horses are four and five years old, and weigh 1735, 1740, 1800 and 1850 pounds respectively. The wagon to which they are hitched weighs 5,200 pounds and has a capacity of 15 tons. The harness is marvel of showy leather and brass. The horses are in charge of William Vaill, stable boss, and Jacob Atherholt, driver.

The midway is jammed full, there being some 40 concessions, ranging from a cane board to the Parisian beauty show. A miniature steam railway is one of the attractions for the little folks.

Yesterday the judges began their work. Today, Thursday, the second day of racing, will be held.

Tomorrow, Friday, will be a big day, it is expected, the many attractions, and two more good races being on the program. The exhibitions given by the high air and acrobatic troupe, is far ahead of anything ever seen in this section.

Funeral of Frank Solick.

The funeral of Frank Solick, who was killed in the Sayre shops Saturday morning, was held Monday afternoon at Frenchtown, interment being made in the cemetery at that place.

FROM JAWS OF DEATH

Warren Bennett Seriously Injured On New Lehigh Bridge.

HURLED OFF TRACK BY ENGINE

Was Hurrying Across Bridge to His Work on the Section Saturday Morning and Did Not Hear Approaching Train—Taken to Hospital

Warren Bennett of South Towanda, escaped from the very jaws of death Saturday morning, while crossing the new Lehigh bridge at Upper Towanda. He is in the Sayre hospital seriously injured, but the doctors believe he will recover.

Story of the Accident.

Bennett was hurrying towards his daily employment with the section crew, which begins at 7 o'clock and was walking on the West bound track across the bridge. A train composed of Philadelphia fast freight cars pulled by engine No. 1368 approached from behind. It was in charge of Conductor T. Wright, and John Durham was the engineman. Durham saw Bennett walking on the track ahead and blew the whistle several times. But still hurrying to work Bennett seemed oblivious to his danger.

Without turning his head to ascertain why the whistle was being sounded, he plodded along until struck on his back by the pilot of the engine. He was hurled from the West bound to the East bound track. He was taken to the Robert Packer hospital at Sayre and there a thorough examination was made by Dr. C. H. Ott. The surgeon found a gash in Bennett's scalp. This was sutured and then the remainder of his body was subjected to a minute examination.

Dr. Ott found that four of the spinal processes had been fractured so badly that they gave forth a grating sound when moved. From the vertebrae, the bones composing the spinal column, project processes which can be readily felt. Four of these processes being those projecting from the ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth vertebrae were the ones fractured. Then Bennett was asked to move his feet and after he had demonstrated his ability to do so the hospital physicians decided that in spite of the broken bones in his back his spinal cord is still uninjured. Unless internal injuries later develop he will recover.

Look Out For This Swindler.

A lightning rod agent is said to be working the farmers in some of the nearby counties. His contracts seem to be all right at first glance but when you study it and find that each little ball ornament and bracket is equal to eighty feet of rod at ten cents per foot it makes the expense amount rapidly to unreasonable figures. An attempt to break the contract after it has been signed is useless so don't sign one until you have read it carefully.

STOPPED CANNING TO SUICIDE

Milkmen in Lansford and Wyoming Valleys Have Formed Combination and Raised Prices Which Will Result in Their Boycott.

Stopping in the midst of canning, Mrs. Robert Schubert, aged 57, ended her life with carbolic acid at Dunmore, her husband finding her dead when he came from work. The woman's health was poor.

Miss Matilda Heidlebaugh, a recluse living at Springet, York county, aged 75, who refused aid or attention from neighbors, and medical treatment likewise, was found dead of infirmities, in a sitting position in her kitchen, on Sunday. She left a fortune of $25,000.

A 2½ years old daughter of Harry Strickler of Hopeland, Lancaster county, died on Saturday evening in convulsions caused by swallowing a number of complexion tablets, supposed to contain a strychnine, which the child found on a bureau in the room of a boarder.

On Monday morning Mrs. James Landrum of Findleyville, Washington county, was awakened by cries and found an infant about six weeks old, on her doorstep, wrapped in a blanket to which was pinned a note requesting her to care for the baby as its mother was destitute and had decided to commit suicide. The child has been taken to the county children's home.

James Malia, a 13 years old orphan of Forest City, fell from a tree Wednesday afternoon and was impaled on the stump of a branch of the tree, which penetrated his body near the thigh, inflicting an ugly wound from which he bled to death. His two companions became so frightened that they ran away without offering him any aid. The injured boy made an heroic effort to reach succor, but fell exhausted along the wayside and died.

After having burned for the past 35 years the mine fire in the Hechersville workings in Schuylkill county is now thought to be completely extinguished. The fire was started by an explosion of gas and despite the energetic efforts of the company the flames could not be gotten under control until last week.

The milkmen of Lansford and Wyoming Valleys have formed a combination and hereafter will refuse to deliver milk on the Sabbath. Raising the price from seven to eight cents a quart is also being considered, but the enforcement of the increase means a general boycott and the establishment of co-operative dairies.

The home of Walter Yarnall, a farmer living at Edgmont, was entered by a burglar Thursday night, who succeeded in getting away with $100 in money, a gold watch and a bundle of clothing, after a thrilling chase in which farmers on horseback and women with broomsticks took part. The burglar was caught on the third floor of the house and was chased for seven miles, finally eluding his pursuers.

Joseph Fisher of Mechanicsville, Lehigh county, died Wednesday as the result of an explosion in the Allentown non-freezing powder works at Iron Bridge. Fisher was mixing chemicals, when there was a terrific detonation, accompanied by a flash, that skinned him alive. He remained unconscious about 12 hours in awful agony.

Mrs. O. B. Narrigan of Avella, Washington county, while walking to the milkhouse on Monday night stepped on a copperhead snake, which thrust its fangs three times into her leg below the knee. She would not allow her husband to go for a physician until the next morning, as she was afraid to remain alone, it being a lonely place, and when the physician fas secured he said her case was hopeless.

A cat belonging to John Robinson, of Canonsburg, on Wednesday, gave birth to five kittens one of which has five heads and five separate necks.

Maggie Evans of Excelsior, Northumberland county, on Wednesday night while attempting to put a revolver in a safe place out of the reach of children, tripped and fell. The weapon was discharged and the bullet entered her body, inflicting a wound that may prove fatal.

Although the new school laws of this state are supposed to be strict, it seems that the end of the law is not accomplished in every town. For example, a school census recently taken in Pottsville shows that there are 1,158 children in that place between the ages of 6 and 16 years who do not attend school.

Harry Enders, a farmer of Conewago township, York county, who lives half a mile from the public road, has rigged his mail box to an endless chain which carries the box by gravity from the house to the road. Whenever the rural carrier deposits any mail in the box he gives a signal when the box is pulled in, thus saving a long tramp.

Citizens of Burnwood, Susquehanna county, believe they are on the edge of a big boom. Scranton capitalists are engaged in testing the clay in a swamp bed which extends over many acres and men are sinking drills at three different points. They have already ascertained that the clay extends down to a depth of over ten feet. It is thought to be admirably adapted to the manufacture of brick, tile and pottery, and a big factory may spring up which will give the place a boom.

While chestnutting on Sunday John Subilinski of Minersville, lost his life by falling from the tree and fracturing his skull. He was knocking down burrs when the limb on which he stood broke.

Miss Bertha Pavitt of Shenandoah, asked the Schuylkill courts for naturalization papers. This was the first instance of a woman applying for citizens' rights anywhere in the anthracite coal region. Miss Pavitt is a professional nurse, and is a thorough linguist.

At a meeting of the Central Labor union of Scranton, held Sunday, it was decided to boycott all meat dealers in that section. This action is taken because of the high prices demanded for meat. A resolution was passed asking all members of unions to abstain from eating meat until the prices for the same are reduced.

Miss Edith Sterner of Blomsburg, where she was employed at the Gearhart shirt factory, is eating nothing but liquid food as one of the results of having swallowed a two inch needle while at work on Thursday of last week. She was holding the needle between her teeth and does not know in just what manner she accidentally swallowed it.

The farmers of Luzerne, Susquehanna and adjoining counties held a session at Clark Summit on Saturday and formed a milk trust. As a result of the meeting the price of milk from Oct. 1 until Nov. 1 will be 3½ cents per pint. After that date it will be raised to 4½ cents, so that people will be compelled to pay between 12 cents and 13 cents a quart for milk.

Daniel Earney, a farmer living near Harrisburg, died the other day from a singular cause. He was a victim of typhoid fever, and while partially deranged from its effects his physician endeavored to take his temperature. The patient bit the instrument, and swallowed both the mercury and the broken glass. He died soon afterwards.

After 20 years of Sunday thirst quenching tolerance, Hazleton was a dry town Sunday as a result of an edict issued by the mayor last week, which set forth that all the saloons must henceforth be closed tight on the Sabbath day. Taking heed the hotelmen granted themselves a general holiday Sunday and, hiring rigs and carriages of all descriptions, went out together for a drive.

LEHIGH VALLEY IS BUYING UP LAND.

In Order to Secure Important Coal Deposits Near Weatherly.

Property owners in the valleys below Hudsonville and Weatherly are alleging that the reason the Lehigh Valey Coal company is buying up so much of the land down that way is not to make room for a great water works plant but because there is a considerable bed of coal underneath the lands stretching from Beaver Meadows to the western spurs of the Broad Mountain above Mauch Chunk.

The Lehigh Valley Coal company has been buying this land for the supposed purpose of enlarging its Hudsondale water plant. Since the first of the year it has purchased 2,200 acres. That it was anxious to purchase the land is shown by the fact that one tract which had no taxes paid on it for 34 years was valuable enough to pay $500 for. The company has as a water company been exercising the right of eminent domain to acquire the land.

A farmer about 12 miles this side of Mauch Chunk has solved the mystery of the reasons for the acquirement of so great a tract. He in digging a well has struck two veins of coal, both said to be of good quality and considerable thickness.

Every week a detachment of the coal company's engineering corps goes down to Hudsondale surveying, as they claim, for the new water works. The farmers say that they are plotting out new coal operations.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple refined Glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, this is the best medicine that can be got.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.

George A. Guernsey.

George A. Guernsey, organizer and the first cashier of the Citizens National bank of Towanda, passed away on Tuesday of this week at his home in Winchester, Massachussetts, after a long illness.

Mr. Guernsey was very well and favorably known in Bradford county, being a gentleman of great energy which brought him in contact with many people who learned to esteem him for his many sterling qualities. In 1876 he organized the Citizens National bank of Towanda, became the cashier, a position which he filled very acceptably until 1880, when he retired from the institution to go to Canton, where he organized the First National bank, filling the office of cashier until 1896, when he resigned, sold his interest and went to Winchester, Mass., and engaged in the cold storage and produce business. Deceased had many warm friends in Towanda and Bradford county, who will regret to learn of his demise.

McCARROLL NOMINATED.

United States District Attorney Gets Judgeship Nomination in Dauphin.

The Republcans of Dauphin county have nominated United States District Attorney S. J. M. McCarrell, of this district, for judge to fill the vacancy existing on the Dauphin county bench. This is regarded as good as an election, as Dauphin is stronly Republican.

In case he is elected, there will be a scramble for his position as United States district attorney, and already wires are being pulled in anticipation of his election. In a line for the promotion will be Assistant United States District Attorney A. T. Searle of Honesdale.

Thursday Night's Show.

Having found that Towanda theatre goers desire dramas of more substantial nature, Manager Kirby has secured the beautiful romantic drama entited "The Lily and the Prince," a story of picturesque Italian life among the royal and acclesiastical world during the troublous times between the Catholic church and the Italian states during the early part of the 16th century. "The Lily and the Prince" is a new and interesting story. The lines are splendid, the action is well sustained and the situations are strong and logical. The first act contains an exceedingly pretty love scene, novel in its conception and admirably worked out, which is immediately followed by the introduction of the principal motive. The third act ends with the scene of remarkable strength, in the famous inquisition chamber, a magnificent conception from a dramatic standpoint with lines of great force and considerable beauty. The fourth and last act is of almost equal strength as the third, the author having hit upon an unusually happy denouement. This great play will be the attraction at Hale's Opera House on Thursday evening of this week.

Officers Elected.

GIANTS OUTCLASSED.

All-Stars Wallop Colored Lads in One Sided Contest.

The All-Star and Colored Giant ball game, which has been hanging fire for a long time, was pulled off on the East Side grounds Tuesday afternoon, and the friends of the Giants were very much disappointed at the showing made, they being completely outclassed by the All-Stars. Five innings and a half were played, the score being 11-4 in favor of the Stars. Going back to even five innings the score was 11-1, the Stars not batting in their half of the sixth.

After the second inning there was nothing to the game but the Stars, they falling on George Albert Powell, the slingist, for a total of 17 safe hits, including two-baggers too numerous too mention. In the third inning the Stars scored 7 runs through heavy hitting. The swatfest was so fast and furious, and long drives so frequent that the fast colored infield was transfered to the outfield and the out gardeners were brought inside the diamond where balls seldom touched. Even with the fast men in the pasture, the terrific bombardment could not be stopped, and the Stars run bases until they were tired.

Hulet Turner was on the firing line with Russell behind the platter, and their work was a feature. Several of the Giants were so badly fooled at the slants and shoots served up by Turner that they were called out without taking a swat at the sphere. Gunn Baker Rockwell, Means, Jackson, Evans and Frisbie were in the All-Stars cast, and their playing was of the caslubricus kind.

In the Giant lineup were the three Powell boys, Carter, Richardson, Ball, Dorsey, A. Carter and Brown. The Powell boys, G. Carter and Jacob Ball were the shining lights on the Giant team, their work being gilt edge.

Owing to the threatening weather the attendance was very light, but those there laughed themselves sore and had fun galore.

SLASHER OUT ON BAIL.

"Monkey Jim" Was All to Blame for the Trouble, So It Is Alleged.

Curtis Vanderpool, the man who laid low with a knife his brother-in-law, "Monkey Jim" Vanderpool, in South Towanda, early Sunday morning, was arraigned before 'Squire Meredith Monday and released on a bond of $300 furnished by Peter Sickler. A hearing was fixed for Oct. 21, which will give "Monkey Jim" an opportunity to recover or die from his wounds.

Late developments in the case would plainly indicate that Curtis did perfectly right in going after his brother-in-law with a knife, as "Monkey Jim," it is alleged, attacked him with a stove poker as he lay in bed. Sympathy is all with Curtis, and if a jury from the township was to decide his fate, he would have no trouble in clearing himself by simply pleading the "unwritten law," or I slashedJimtoprotectmyselfeo.

"Monkey Jim," the wounded man, was resting quite easy Monday night, and Dr. Mingos, the attending physician, is of the opinion that if complications do not develop, he will recover.

Burglary at Franklindale.

The store of A. C. Mott of Franklindale, was burglarized Tuesday night of last week, and a small quantity of goods taken. Mr. Mott was awakened by the sound of breaking glass, the thief having gained an entrance through a window, but being unable to find the cause of the noise returned to bed thinking he must be mistaken. In the morning he found that some one had made his store a visit during the night and a revolver and a lot of cartridges were missing. It was learned that a young lad by the name of Casselbury, who lives at Sam Vanluren's, had been doing a lot of shooting and was the proud possessor of a pair of rubber boots. When confronted he at first strenuously denied any knowledge of the theft, but afterward admitted he alone had entered the store and how he had hid behind the counter and avoided Mr. Mott when he was looking for him. The young lad spent the rest of the night in a barn belonging to Mert McKee and showed Constable Smiley where he had punctured the roof with bullets from his purloined revolver. He was taken to Towanda Friday evening, after a preliminary hearing and placed in the custody of Sheriff Griffin. The young lad is only nine years of age.

DEADLY DRUG CURSES TOWN.

Many Young People of Austin Have Formed Powdered Cocaine Habit.

Austin, Potter county, is in the throes of an awful plague, according to the returns of a constable made in open court at Coudersport last week. As a result a druggist of that place and his agent have been arrested, charged with selling powdered cocaine, known to the users of it as "spratz" to the people of Austin so promiscuously that from 50 to 100 persons, mostly young people, have formed a habit so fearful in its effects that in comparison the use of liquor is a blessing.

The Coudersport Enterprise says: "It only requires a short time to become a confirmed slave to the habit. The 'spraz' is served to them in the form of white powder and they take it into the nose the same as snuff. In fact it is used the same as snuff and looks the same except as to color. It retails at about $40 per pound, and is sold to victims in quantities all the way from 25 cents to any amount a persons wishes to buy. Of the class who have been generally using it in Austin the limit of purchase has been about $5.

"All of the victims admit they are delightid with the effect of the awful drug. It makes them feel happy and delighted with life; when fully under the influence they imagine they are walking in space, on air; that they have everything in this world mortal being could want; that they are millionaires; they do not care to eat or sleep; they cannot get tired and some of the victims have been known to go several days without a moment's rest of any kind."

The effect upon the nerves is so exhilerating that its victims are in constant motion while beneath its spell. Without the drug, after the habit is confirmed, the victim is a wretch of the most pitiful type. Users last about ten years and then die a death of many agonies. Many are blind to every moral obligation and will sell anything, their soul included, to get possession of the drug.

DYNAMITE IN ENVELOPE.

Jersey Shore Postmaster Slightly Burned By Infernal Machine.

A news dispatch from Jersey Shore, which is near Williamsport, says: "Warren B. Masters, postmaster of this place, was slightly burned by an explosion of some dynamite caps in an envelope while cancelling stamps with the hand stamping machine. The explosion blew the envelope to fragments so that no trace can be found of the address. The word "DuBois" can be seen indistinctly and it is believed that the miniature infernal machine was intended to injure some one at that place. Mr. Masters, however, is not sure whether the dynamite caps were intended for him or some one else.

"The caps, fragments of which were found after the explosiaon, were under the stamp and whe the stamp descended upon it the explosion occurred. The powder burned Mr. Master's face and hands slightly. The explosion was of sufficient force to blow many other letters off the table and could be heard outside of the building. A portion of a cap flew up and struck Mr. Masters very close to one of his eyes."

Y.

"The proposed road is to follow the old Alden survey from LeRaysville as far as that survey goes toward Warren Center. After leaving this survey it is to take the most practicable route to Warren Center, thence down the creek to the Wapasening and thence to Nichols, N. Y. The meeting was well attended and the following officers were elected: President, Dr. J. C. Tripp, Warren Center; vice president, Hon. N. W. Pendleton, South Warren; secretary, M. A. Sleeper, Warren Center; treasurer, F. D. Robbins, LeRaysville. Local committees were appointed and another meeting will be held soon."

Sayre Man Suicides.

Joseph Watson of West Sayre, committed suicide Monday forenoon by turning on four gas jets in his room, the deadly fumes bringing an end to earthly troubles a short time later. Watson was a man of excellent habits and no reason can be ascribed for his rash act. His wife has been away visiting and for some time her whereabouts were unknown. Mrs. Joseph Welsiffer, who lives next to the Watson house, found the suicide's body about 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Watson returned home on Tuesday and believes that death was accidental.

NOT DEAD, BUT VERY MUCH ALIVE.

Aged Wellsboro Woman Received Flowers Intended for Her Corpse.

The news of the death of Mrs. Samuel Smith of Wellsboro, who would have rounded out a century on Oct. 12 next, was received with general regret Sunday. Friends, who went to the house Monday morning with floral tributes and to inquire if they could be of service, were overjoyed that the remarkable old woman was upstairs quilting.

Though very busy, she found time to run down and receive the floral tributes intended for the dead, as well as the hearty congratulations of her friends, who are more determined than ever that she shall live to complete her century life.

"Leave that to me," she tersely said as she returned to her task.

It was a case of mistaken identity.

NEARLY SCALPED.

Meshoppen Man Meets With Bad Accident While Shingling.

With his scalp nearly torn off from his head John Farr was taken to Sayre from Meshoppen Monday evening and is now at the Packer hospital.

Farr was at work placing slate shingles on his house at Meshoppen. He was standing on a scaffold beside many of the shingles. The weight was more than the scaffold could hold and it broke. Farr fell to the porch and then rolled off to the ground a distance of 15 feet from the porch foof. He was not badly injured by the fall but as he lay on the ground slate shingles which fell slower than he did, struck his head in such a manner that he was nearly scalped.

Canton's Big Harness Factory.

Foremost among the industries of the thriving village of Canton is the factory where the Gleckner harness is made. The name of this harness is not new to the readers of the Reporter-Journal, although it may not perhaps be generally known that the business of its manufacture has been increasing by leaps and bounds, so that now the Gleckner harness factory is the largest in the state. The factory building is of concrete, of modern mill construction, heated by hot air distributed by the blower system and lighted by electricity. Thirteen thousand feet of floor space are utilized, it is equipped with modern machinery and only the most capable workmen are employed. The Gleckner harness may be procured of dealers everywhere.

Wellsboro Veterinary Appointed.

Dr. J. H. Turner, the Wellsboro veterinarian, has been appointed by Gov. Stuart one of the staff of ten agents of the State Live Stock Sanitary board to assist in the enforcement of the new meat inspection law. This is a very responsible position and important office, requiring expert service and is a department of state activity having to do with the public health. The appointment of Dr. Turner is well merited and it is highly complimentary to him that he has been chosen one of the ten skilled agents of the state in making the new meat inspection law affective.

Deputy Mineral Surveyor, Bliss Station, Idaho, says: "For years I have suffered from severe pains in the hip joint and back bone, depriving me of all power. The cause was Stone in the Bladder and Gravel in the Kidneys. After using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y., I was completely cured."

KILLED AT WEDDING.

Brother Shot in Heart at Sister's Marriage Feast.

Leo Bonner of Wilkes-Barre was shot dead during the celebration early Thursday morning following his sister's wedding. His brothers, John and Michael, are accusing each other of firing the shot, and the father, Frank Bower, is also in jail, being held as a witness.

The brothers and the guests were rather boisterous and a weight-lifting challenge resulted. A number repaired to the back yard at the Boner home. There a quarrel occurred, and during it the father slashed John on the neck with a penknife.

It is charged John rushed upstairs, got a repeating rifle and fired several Shots at the group. One of these went through Leo's heart, killing him instantly.

All the evidence is against John, bue he declares Michael fired the shot. The father has intimated that John murdered a man in Italy and another in New York city.

Pennsylvania's Tobacco Crop.

Few Pennsylvanians realize that their state ranks sixth in the union in the value of her tobacco crop, because in only five counties—Lancaster and York in the Southeast; Clinton in the center, and Tioga and Bradford in the North—is tobacco culture extensively practiced. In the census year, however, Pennsylvania had nearly 28,000 acres under tobacco, and produced 41,500,000 pounds of leaf, worth $2,960,000. Moreover, she had 2,664 manufacturing establishments, chiefly cigar factories, with nearly $14,000,000 capital, employing 25,000 wage earners, paying nearly $8,500,000 wages, consuming 29,000,000 pounds of tobacco and other raw materials, at a cost of $11,600,000, and putting out over 1,600,000,000 cigars, valued at about $30,000,000.

More Lehigh Taxes.

Norman J. Plumstead, assistant tax collector of Sayre on Friday received another check from the Lehigh Valley railroad company, or to be more exact from the "P. & N. Y. railway and Canal company" for $1,672.22. This check is in addition to the one for $34, 459.45 received Thursday so that the tax collector has received from the Lehigh Valley in two days $36,137.67. The first amount was for taxes assessed against the Lehigh system shops. The amount received on Friday morning is for property such as houses and lands owned by the Lehigh is Sayre. This property is still purchased by the P. & N. Y. Rail & Canal company many years ago, and although owned by the Lehigh is still held in the former name. The Lehigh paid taxes on the system shops amounting to $34,459.45, and the tax collector received as commission $689.18.

Mr. Codding a Candidate.

There has been considerable inquiry among Republicans as to whether our townsman, John W. Codding, would be a candidate this year for the nomination of sheriff. The reluctance of Mr. Codding to enter the field again has led to delay which has embarrassed his friends and other candidates whose candidacy was contingent upon his action. Many of his friends have been urgent in their requests that he should be a candidate and that he should announce the fact without further delay. Yielding to the advice of friends, Mr. Codding now authorizes the announcement of his candidacy and asks the support of the Republican voters of Bradford county.

The next Arbor Day in Pennsylvania has been fixed for Friday Oct. 18. It ought to be an occasion of special and widespread interest. Nothing is of more importance to the people of this state than the preservation of the forests yet remaining and the planting of new ones.

"Canned music" is the latest term applied to the music produced by phonographs. The canned article puts to shame much of the so-called classical music, both vocal and instrumental, that is rendered by some of the snobbery who are termed "talented artists" and "cultured musicians."—Wellsboro Advocate.

Those who have to buy hay, says an exchange, may console themselves by recalling that in the Spring of 1870 hay was sold in New York at $40 to $48 per ton. The man who reaped a good hay crop this year may look forward to great profits, but the price will hardly reach the figures above recorded.

Five rural free delivery routes in Michigan have been ordered discontinued by the postoffice department on account of the wretched condition of the roads. A movement of that kind is calculated to help road improvement. The government, in some instances, has refused to establish delivery routes because the roads were in such condition as to be unfit for travel.

The firemans's "heat veil" lately tested at Cologne is made form cane fiber. It is soaked in water before attaching to the ordinary brass helmet, and the moisture is long retained, giving great protection against the heat of a fire. All of which may be of interest to our fire laddies. So far as we know, says The Lancaster Examiner, this new "heat veil" has not been introduced in this section of the footstool. The introduction hasn't been made in this section, either.

THE CONSTABULARY.

In view of the fact that a detachment of the State Constabulary is spending a week in Bradford county, with headquarters in Towanda, the following from the Scranton Republican, is of more than ordinary interest:

"It should be observed that while outrages perpetrated by the 'Black Hand' organization have been continuous in many sections of the country, there has been a significant subsiding of their evil work in localities near the various barracks occupied by the state constabulary. The efforts of this body of men have been so determined and so unremittingly directed toward the suppression of outlawry believed to emanate from the 'Black Hand,' that recently in this region and also in others where the constabulary may be secured at a few minutes' notice, a cessation of bomb throwing, murderous threats and kidnaping is evident.

"That the constabulary must be considered the best friends that the workingman, the foreigner, the unprotected in any community can have, is unmistakable. It should be emphasized that by far the majority of those who have claimed the help of the constabulary or have been thus protected, have been the laboring classes and not the employers of labor. Seldom have there been any demands for the protection of coal property or manufacturing plants. Nearly always the complaints have come from the humbler residents of the different communities for relief from the persecutions or outbreaks of the lawless at their own doors. The people are beginning to realize the valuable aid which a trooper can afford in an emergency, and in some of the mining villages hereabouts he is being looked upon as a public benefactor, since his protection is asked on all sorts of occasions.

"The troopers up and down the valley probably receive more invitations to social affairs than any society leader. Their presence is cordially requested at weddings, christenings and sometimes even at funerals, and it must be admitted that these functions are taking on a very much more dignified attitude than was once the case. At events of this kind the member of the constabulary who happens on the scene is treated and regarded as the guest of honor and is welcomed on all sides. Such are the changes of sentiment wrought in a year and a little more."

OPTIMISM AND SUCCESS.

The best contributions to the literature of any people are from those men and women who know how to do things besides writing fine phrases.

John G. Shedd, the great Chicago merchant, has been persuaded to write his ideas on success for young men. In doing so, Mr. Shedd cites two young men as examples.

One is always cheerful at his task. He understands that the only way he can expect to be called to a large place is to discharge fully and perhaps a little more than fully, the duties and responsibilities of a small place. He is happy at his work; he does things; he conveys the impression that he comprehends how important it is to the firm's success that the tasks devolving upon him now, however humble, are done well. The employer's success depends upon the efficiency of his employes. Those that earnestly and faithfully advance that success he is bound to recognize, to encourage, to advance.

The other young man in business Mr. Shedd has in mind is always complaining. He has too much to do; he is not appreciated; he has not the chance that some one else ha... He persuades himself that his superior officers do not like him; that somebody is conspiring against him; he imagines that every other job in the store is more congenial and promising than his own; and he ends in a morose condition that interferes with his own efficiency and inevitably creates the very antipathy to him which existed at first in his own imagination.

No need to ask which young man succeeds.

PROSECUTION BEGAN.

Warrants for the arrest of fourteen men charged with plundering the state in the erection and furnishment of the new state capitol have been issued at the instance of Attorney General Todd. This is in accord with the promise of Governor Stuart before election, and there has been no undue delay in taking this action. There has been simply a careful procedure calculated to secure the best results, and as much speed as was consistent with that object. Other arrests will follow in due course.

There is every reason to believe these men will be prosecuted vigorously in the courts, but because they have been arrested and indicted upon evidence that appears strong it does not necessarily follow that they can be convicted criminally. It is not certain that any can be forced by civil suits to disgorge the plunder that has assuredly gone somewhere.

There is no question that the prosecution is acting in good part, and it is not the province of a newspaper or the public to forejudge the case. The people will insist on the utmost fairness and full presentation of evidence of innocence or guilt but will visit with swift condemnation any attempt to shield wrong doing by delay or legal guible.

NATIONAL FIGHT COMING

Contest at the Pennsylvania Election This Fall Regarded as Skirmish of the Great Presidential Battle of Next Year.

[Special Correspondence.]
Harrisburg, Sept. 24.

A significant feature of the gathering of Republican clubmen in this city this week is the presence of so many young Republicans, many of them to be first voters at the coming election.

The activity of young men in the ranks of the State League of Republican clubs in this campaign has been the subject of general comment, and the party leaders who have been fighting the battles of Republicanism for years are elated over the accession of so many enthuiastic recruits.

The popularity of the nominee for state treasurer, the fact that he is, himself ,a staunch member of the State League of Clubs, and that his candidacy typifies the desires of the men who seek to advance the cause of Republicanism's highest ideals, may, in a measure, account for the gratifying interest taken in the present state campaign by the young men, both of the cities and the counties of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Sheatz's career in public life is calculated to inspire the youth of this commonwealth.

The story of his labors as a lad in the great Baldwin Locomotive works in Philadelphia and his subsequent success as a business man, his nomination for the state legislature in an independent district in the Quaker city, his splendid record as a lawmaker at Harrisburg, which led to his nomination by the Republican state convention by a unanimous vote for the office of state treasurer, has been studied by the young Republicans of Pennsylvania, who have enlisted in the campaign to bring about his election by an unprecedented majority for an off year in November next.

Presidential Battle Coming.

The fact that next year will be presidential year may also account for the interest taken in the Republican party organization this fall by the younger element.

Colonel Wesley R. Andrews, chairman of the Republican state committee, reports that the chairmen of the several county committees find that great interest is being taken in national politics this year, and that every one is looking forward to the coming Republican convention.

Pennsylvania will have 68 votes in that national gathering, the largest delegation, save one, that will sit in the convention, and the voice of Pennsylvania, as in the past, it is predicted, will again be potential in the national councils of the party.

In order that Pennsylvania shall maintain her proud place as the keystone of the Republican national arch, it is recognized by the young men who have rallied to the party colors in the present campaign that the vote at the coming election must show a pronounced Republican majority.

It is true that the opposition is demoralized, and is without an issue.

The danger to the Republican forces lies in over confidence and the apathy that frequently follows the absence of an aggressive opposition.

The Capitol Grafting Issue.

Nominee for treasurer, Mr. Sheatz, has reason to be proud of the ovation given him here this week by the clubmen gathered from every section of the state.

While in this city, Mr. Sheatz had several conferences with Governor Stuart. They talked over the state capitol graft cases. It is recognized that the Democrats lost their only issue when Attorney General Todd proceeded against the men who were named in the report of the legislative probers as responsible for the looting of the state treasury through irregularities attending the construction of the capitol.

With the knowledge that the pledges of the Republican party are being fulfilled, and that after the thorough probing of the capitol job, the Republican state administration is proceeding to prosecute all who had a hand in the affair, the Democrats are absolutely deprived of an opportunity to play the capitol scandal to advance their political interests.

VALUE OF KING DRAG

Improves the Worst Earth Road In Short Order.

QUICKLY DESTROYS ALL RUTS

Change to Smoothness Almost Instantaneous, Says Inventor of Highway Improvement Device — Other Benefits Derived by Using the Drag.

[Copyright, 1907, by D. Ward King.]

The King drag is like a sleight of hand performer in appearing to accomplish the impossible. In twenty minutes after you hitch to the drag the worst earth road is so much better that a magician seems to have been at work, assuming, of course, that the soil is in fit condition. If you think I am making too strong a statement, try it, and if you are still of the opinion I will pay you at the rate of $5 per day for the time you use in making the experiment.

Look at these Iowa photographs. In No. 1 the fellies and several inches of the spokes are hidden in the ruts. Just a few minutes' use of the drag and the ruts are obliterated, and even the tire is in plain view. The two pictures are of the same spot, and not more than thirty minutes elapsed from the making of the first negative to the making of the last. The Missouri pictures show as great a change. In both cases we selected the worst road we could find, and I drove the drag myself.

DIRT ROAD BEFORE DRAGGING.

The change to smoothness is almost instantaneous, and it at once begins to distribute the travel. The distribution of the travel is due to the absence of ruts, and in turn it also discourages ruts. The smallest rut tends to the destruction of the road. The drag owes its reputation to the fact that it is the cheapest known method of destroying ruts. On a level road a rut, however slight, means a spot where the water will lodge after the next rain. Because this spot retains water it remains softer than the higher portions of the road and for this reason is deepened and widened by every wheel and every hoof that touches it. If it held a pint of water after the last rain it will hold a quart when the next one fails. It is twice as large as at the beginning and of course presents twice the surface to the teams and wagons. Soon it will be so large that travel will pass to the other side of the highway. It is now a mudhole of consequence and quite able during a ten days' rain in spring or fall to stall the largest teams.

How different would be the story had that first little rut been filled by the drag! A mudhole that contains but a pint of water is insignificant; it harms no one. True, it may jar an invalid or give pain to a delicate woman, but the load it will ruin next March it jostles so gently now that it is unnoticed. With the drag the jostling and the pain giving jar are eliminated. And, strange as it may seem, more money is spent for road work under the plan that allows the mudhole to develop and ripen than when the drag is used to nip it in the bud.

On a hill road the tiny rut is the dangerous ravine in embryo. Neither ravine nor mudhole can exist in a carefully dragged earth road. The clay hill south of my house has been worked with nothing but a drag and a plow for over ten years. There have been no mudholes in all that time nor ruts worth more than passing notice. And this is the experience of farmers, road commissioners and men of science in authority all over our broad land.

The use of the King drag brings to pass numerous other details which singly seem unimportant, but which in gives permanence and which comes more slowly than the first two, growing and gaining for several years.

NAIL CAMPAIGN LIE

Legislators Dispose of Only Issue Democrats Have Raised.

SHEATZ SOLDIERS' FRIEND

Men Who Served at Harrisburg With Nominee For State Treasurer Tell of His Interest In Veterans' Pension Bill.

[Special Correspondence.]
Philadelphia, Sept. 24.

Members of the legislature who served with John O. Sheatz at Harrisburg have supplimented the action of the war veterans in exposing the trick of the Democratic campaign managers who sought to misrepresent the action of Mr. Sheatz as a member of the general assembly in dealing with the bill to provide pensions for old soldiers.

The war veterans of this city, by resolution and through vigorous speeches of some of their most prominent members, repudiated the campaign circular sent out by Democratic politicians of Lycoming county, in which Mr. Sheatz was held responsible for the failure of the plans to have the state provide pensions for veterans of the civil war who enlisted from Pennsylvania, and who are now residents of this state.

Without regard to party or factional affiliations, men who sat in committee with Mr. Sheatz, when the old soldiers' pension bill was under consideration, have united in public declarations which show the falsity of the charges of the Democratic tricksters.

One of the most active of the younger members of the general assembly, Representative Joseph S. Thomas, of Bucks county, has come out boldly in defense of Mr. Sheatz in a statement which leaves no room to doubt that he is speaking with absolute sincerity and candor.

Democratic Lies Nailed.

Mr. Thomas, who is editor of the Bristol Gazette, reproduces the allegations made by the Lycoming Democratic outfit in their document sent out to influence old soldiers against the Republican nominee for state treasurer. He takes up each of the misstatements of fact, and gives the truth as he knows it.

"There is not a single line that does not contain statements which I know to be absolutely untrue," declares Representative Thomas. "John O. Sheatz, in a thoroughly conscientious and businesslike manner, did everything in his power to pass the real pension bill.

"He did not add a single item nor add one dollar to the figures that was not absolutely necessary to carry the bill into effect. He did not sit along side the governor and even suggest the veto of the bill. He did not put a single straw in the way to cause the bill's defeat.

"The alleged pension bill was introduced into the Senate by a Democrat. The bill as introduced by Senator Cochran was a ridiculous farce, and if passed in that shape and approved by the governor it never could have been put into operation. One million dollars appropriation was called for, but no provision was made whatever for the machinery to put the law into motion.

Sheatz's Conscientious Work.

"The bill passed the senate, went to the house and was referred to the appropriations committee, of which I was a member. Mr. Sheatz, the chairman of the committee, realized that the senate was engaged in a game of buncome set to work and for three weeks labored to whip the bill into shape. He called to his aid the auditor general and General Mulholland, of Philadelphia, the pension expert. Thorough calculations were made as to the amount of money that would be necessary to pay the pensions, and plans for a state pension bureau, under the charge of the auditor general were developed, with the necessary corps of clerks.

"Through General Mulholland, from the best obtainable figures, it was learned that about 55,000 were likely to apply for pensions and that the average to each would amount to $82.50. That made it necessary to appropriate $5,574,000 to cover the 15 months until the new legislative appropriation becomes available.

Let Truth Be Known.

"The amounts fixed by the house appropriation committee were carefully figured, and Mr. Sheatz worked earnestly and faithfully to make a sane and correct measure out of the farce passed by the senate. Governor Stuart, in my hearing, declared that he surely would have vetoed the bill as it came from the senate, and that the house had made a thorough bill of it and that he intended to approve it if there was revenue enough

"The house of representatives also passed a number of revenue bills which would have produced sufficient funds to pay the pensions to old soldiers, but Senator Cochran's colleagues in the senate killed every one of them, and that was the reason the governor vetoed the pension bill.

"John O. Sheatz acted fairly and squarely with the veterans. He was their best friend and labored in their behalf, while Senator Cochran trifled with a sentiment to play politics.

"Mr. Sheatz did his duty honestly and conscientiously, and has nothing to fear from the result of any examination made into its record.

Other Legislators Speak Out.

Representatives Andrew J. Pfaff and John R. Gillette, City Party members of the house from this city, and Representative Robert P. Habgood, of McKean county, are among others who have given public declarations that the charges that Mr. Sheatz did not work fairly in the interests of the old soldiers are absolutely false and malicious.

Representative Gillette, among other things, said:

"The nomination of Hon. John O. Sheatz by the Republican party for state treasurer removes the last doubt as to whether a Republican or Democrat shall fill that important office as the successor of Treasurer Berry. The good sense of the party has prevailed, and a more logical candidate could not have been named. Taking into consideration the exigencies of the situation, the nomination was a master stroke, and all factions of the Republican party can have no further reason at this time for remaining outside the breastworks.

"There is absolutely no truth in the campaign charges that Mr. Sheatz is not a friend of the old soldiers. I say this with knowledge of his work at Harrisburg in their interests."

Immediately after the verdict of the jury had been read, Lilley & Wilson, attorneys for the township, filed a motion asking the court to set aside the verdict and find in favor of the defendant township. Will of Jonathan Terry, late of Towanda borough, deceased, admitted to probate.

Something New in Education.

A new school has recently been opened at the suggestion of the Office Appliance Magazine, Chicago, Ill. Elmira, N. Y., Aug. There has been a long felt want for a school of office appliances and methods, where young men and women can learn the use of filing cabinets, and systems and how to operate the different office machines. Such a department was opened last year in connection with the business and short hand courses, taught at Meeker's School of Commerce, Elmira, N. Y., and started with an equipment of adding machines, cash registers, letter copying presses, mimeographs, multigraphs (a new machine for writing circular letters by the thousand), and filing cabinets. Students are also taught the details of this work and the use of the loose-leaf and card systems. To the writer's knowledge there is not a similar school in existence. A invitation is extended to the public and especially to business men and prospective students to call and inspect the work and courses. All students were placed in good paying positions last year and many calls were received which could not be filled. For complete information, write or call for Jess S. Kellogg, Registrar, Elmira School of Commerce, Elmira, N. Y.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY SEAT.

PASSED UP TOWANDA.

Candidate Stevenson Disappointed in Bradford County Capital.

Mattew H. Stevenson, Esq., of Pittsburg, prohibition candidate for state treasurer, did not speak in Towanda last Wednesday, for the simple reason, that he thought it no use. Through some misunderstanding the coming of the prohibition color bearer, was not made known in time to advertise the meeting which was scheduled for the evening, and as a result, when Mr. Stevenson and party arrived in the Bradford county capital, they found that a place to hold the meeting had not been arranged for, no advertising had been done, and in view of these things together with the inclemency of the weather, it was decided to pass up Towanda and go to Sayre where two meetings were held Thursday.

With candidate Stevenson on his campaign tour, are his wife, George V. Hibbard, who spoke in open air at the corner of Main and Court streets Tuesday evening, and M. N. Martin, a staff correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch, who is keeping his paper in touch with the doings of the candidate from the Smoky City. L. F. Mezick and sister, Miss Ella Mezick, two noted singers are also members of the party, they having charge of the singing at each meeting which is addressed by Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Vibbert.

Mr. Stevenson who is seeking political honors on the prohibition ticket, is a gentleman of commanding appearance, and has a reputation of being one of the most brilliant orators in the state. He is a lawyer by profession, having a large practice in Pittsburg, and is spending his vacation this year on the stump in the interests of the Prohibition party.

Towanda is not rated as a prohibition stronghold like Sayre, but had Mr. Stevenson and his party of campaigners been properly announced and advertised in advance, they could have had a good big hall, and a good big audience, for Towandians are noted for their hospitality, and willingness to give respectful attention to the claims of all parties.

OTHER PLACES ENTERED.

Bailey's Meat Market Was Not the Only Place Burglarized.

A. J. Bailey's Bridge street market was not the only place burglarized on Monday night. James Lewis' plumbing and hardware establishment next door to Bailey's was also entered and in the same manner, but nothing was taken, as the theives evidently had no use for hardware.

In addition to the burglarizing of Bailey's and Lewis' the cellar of a house in the First ward was visited, and three dozen bottles of ice cold, amber colored beer was purloined. This theft was not discovered until the owner of the beer armed with a Switzer sandwitch visited the cellar to have a little lunch. He never squealed about his loss, instead keeping very quiet.

Joe Vargason, the young man arrested by Chief Miller and who is now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on the charge of burglary, he being accused of doing the Bailey job, had a number of bottles of beer early Tuesday morning, and the Chief was very much mystified to know where he got them, as no one in Towanda had sold them to him. Wednesday he went to a certain citizen and asked him if he had been robbed of some holiday goods. The citizen fessed up, and Chief Miller is now convinced that he can produce enough evidence in court to send Vargason to the pen.

It is believed that Vargason had an accomplice in the burglarizing of Bailey's market. William Conroy who was arrested Monday afternoon for drunkenness and given 20 days in jail, helped drink the stolen beer, it is alleged, and it is believed he knows all about the other jobs.

Funeral of Mrs. Pratt.

The funeral of the late Mrs. C. A. Pratt, was held at the Pratt homestead at the corner of Main and State streets, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was very largely attended. Rev. O. A. Houghton, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of which the deceased was for many years a member conducted brief services. The floral offerings were numerous and very beautiful. The pallbearers were Benj. Kuykendall, Jr., George Ridgeway, J. R. McKeeby, William H. Smith, A. D. Dye, and J. K. Newell. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Home From Western Trip.

P. J. McCauley arrived in Towanda Sunday, en route to his home in Pike township, after an extensive trip through the West. Mr. McCauley left Towanda on April 8, since which time he has visited in many of the Western states, traveling to the Pacific coast where he spent some time in San Francisco, Los Angeles, going as far North as Seattle, where he visited relatives. Mr. McCauley was one of the viewers who reported favorably on the James street bridge and he was delighted to find on his return that work had been commenced on the structure.

Will Take Engineering Course.

William E. Sammons, son of George B. Sammons of Towanda, who has been with the Western Electrical company at Chicago for the past three years, has gone to Champaign, Ill., where he will take a four years course in mechanical and electrical engineering at the state college.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Annual Session of Educators to be Held October 7-11.

GOOD INSTRUCTORS ENGAGED

Splendid Lecturers Will Furnish Food For Thought and an Excellent Musical Organization Will Close Institute With Concert.

The annual session of the Bradford County Teachers' Institute will be held in Hale's Opera House, Towanda, the week of October 7th, 1907. The Institute will open Monday at 10:30 a. m., and will close with a musical entertainment Friday evening. An effort has been made to secure the best talent available and it is expected that this Institute will be equal to any that have been held, both in point of entertainment and instruction. The following persons have been engaged for day work:

Hon. O. T. Corson, ex-commissioner of Ohio, editor of the Ohio Educational Monthly.

Dr. S. D. Fess, president of Antioch College.

Miss Maude Willis of the Lock Haven State Normal school.

Dr. Daniel Fleisher, superintendent of the Columbia schools.

Dr. C. T. McFarlane, principal of the Brockport, N. Y., Normal school.

Prof. Jerry March of Girard college, who will have charge of the singing.

The evening lectures and entertainments are as follows:

Monday Evening.—Miss Willis will give a reading, "If I Were King," by Justin McCarthy.

Tuesday Evening.—Rev. Samuel Parkes Cadman, D.D., will deliver one of his famous lectures.

The Wednesday evening lecture will be given by Prof. Paul Pearson of Swarthmore college, editor of Talent.

On Thursday evening Gen. Z. T. Sweeney of Columbus, Ind., will give his celebrated lecture, "The Golden Age."

The Friday evening musical entertainment will be given by the Ion Jackson Grand Concert company, which consists of four people, all artists in their chosen profession. Ion Jackson is one of the most celebrated singers on the musical platform. He will be assisted by Miss Glenn Priest, one of the leading women violinists in America, Mr. Frederick Schieder, pianist, and Miss Ada Hussey, one of Boston's famous contraltos. This is one of the most expensive musical entertainments the Institute has ever secured and is sure to be enjoyed by all who hear it.

The work given by Mr. Corson, Dr. Fess and Miss Willis will be of the most practical kind and should result in great benefit to the teachers. Superintendent Fleisher, who was formerly a teacher in the county, will deliver several addresses and receive a cordial welcome from his many friends.

Prof. Jerry March comes recommended as "The best that ever came down the pike." No person in Pennsylvania has a better reputation as a musical director, or is more sought after, than Prof. March. Every person will sing at this Institute, even if he never sang before. All are requested to get books when they enroll.

Dr. Cadman is a graduate of Richmond college, London, England, and became a pastor in New York city in 1893. Since 1900 he has been pastor of the Central Congregational church in Brooklyn, said to be the strongest church of this order in the world. He has a great reputation. The subject of his lecture will probably be "The Puritan in Two Worlds." It is claimed for him that there is no stronger man on the American platform or in the American pulpit.

Prof. Paul Pearson is a specialist in oratory and is professor of public speaking and rhetoric in Swarthmore college. His distinctive work on the platform is the "Lecture-Recital." He discusses the characteristics of a group of our modern writers, and illustrates his points by reciting typical passages.

Gen. Z. T. Sweeney, author, diplomat and lecturer, ranks among the best of the great American lecturers. He has occupied many honorable positions and is a member of a number of the great educational societies of the world. Superintendent Richey of McKeesport, speaks of him as follows: "Gen. Z. T. Sweeney of Columbus, Ind., has lectured for me three times, and I have engaged him for the fourth lecture at my Teachers' Institute for next year. I have heard all the popular lecturers and I am sure he is the best, the most popular I have ever heard. Mr. Sweeney has a message and he delivers it with such eloquence and force that he can hold any audience spellbound for hours. His lectures are not only logical and philosophical but they are also full of entertainment and practical common sense. He is the one man who is orator, logician, philosopher and entertainer, and never fails to instruct and entertain men and women from all walks of life."

No application for reduced railroad rates has been made on account of the new two-cent fare law which goes into effect the first of October.

The law requires that all public schools be closed during the week of the County Institute, and every teacher is expected to be present and give close attention to the work during the entire week. Absence on the part of teachers from the County Institute will seriously interfere with the professional standing necessary to secure the higher certificates, which are placed on a different basis by the new salary law. All teachers will receive $2.00 for each day they are in attendance at the County Institute. The work of the Institute will constitute in part the professional work for the educational meetings held during the year. Every teacher is requested to take notes and be ready to give the substance of the work of the Institute if called upon to do so.

The customary enrollment fee and extra charge for reserved seats for evening entertainments and lectures will be charged all persons who become members of the Institute. Persons not teaching will be allowed to enroll and reserve seats after the teachers have been provided with places.

Tickets for citizens will be on sale at Kirby's drug store, Monday evening, Sept. 30, at 7 p. m.

Change at Kester's.

Lewis Gerould, for the past three years drug clerk in E. P. Kester's drug store, has resigned his position, and on Saturday of this week will leave for Florida, where he has a position. Mr. Gerould is a competent druggist, a popular young man, and has a host of friends who wish him success in his new field of labor. Bert Gerould, for the past three years employed as prescription and drug clerk in a large pharmacy in Scranton, has returned to Towanda and will resume his old position behind the counter at Kester's. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gerould, and is a young man with many warm friends who will be pleased to know that he is again to become a citizen of Towanda. He was for several years employed in the Kester store before going to Scranton. Mrs. Gerould returned to Towanda with him Sunday.

The State Constabulary.

The five members of the State Constabulary, quartered at the Ochs House, are not here to attend the fair this week, but are visiting Bradford county on a tour of exploration. Detachments of the constabulary are being sent into the farming districts of the state to inspect the roads, get the lay of the country, and acquaint the people as to the methods employed by these mounted policemen. While in Towanda the constables will ride out into the adjoining country about 30 miles each day, on a tour of inspection. Every one of the five men are experienced soldiers, all having been in the regular army and have seen much active service, one of them having been in the cavalry for 22 years. They go to Sayre from Towanda, then on to Wellsboro and from there to Punxsutawney, covering the entire distance on horses.

Accident on Fair Grounds.

Leonard Alexander, an attache of a vaudeville show which is to exhibit on the fair grounds this week, was seriously injured by falling on a stake Sunday night. Alexander had been assisting in placing the show on the grounds, and unnoticed by any one, suffered a stroke of epilepsy, and in falling struck his left side on a sharp pointed stake causing a bad rupture. It was a long time after the accident that he was found, and then considerable time elapsed before medical assistance could be summoned. Alexander is an Eagle and the local Eagle physician, Dr. C. M. Woodburn attended him. The injured man was brought to the Tidd house Monday night, and will be taken to a hospital.

Visiting Home Folks.

William Munn, the well known circus performer and all around showman who has been managing a circus of his own this season, is visiting relatives and friends in Monroeton and Towanda. Mr. Munn is a native of Monroeton, and through his own efforts aided by a gift of more than ordinary talent, has worked his way along in the amusement world, until he is now a topnotcher. The first of October he opens on Shay's vaudeville circuit, in a new monologue and balancing act which is said to be a hummer.

Boarding Rates the Same.

While Towanda hotel keepers are raising the price of board and single meals, the general public should remember that the same old rates prevail at Job Griffin's resort on Pine street. Board at this hostelry is 25 cents a day, and there are accommodations for all who stray from the narrow path.

New Institute Instructor.

Superintendent Putnam has secured as an additional instructor in the teachers' institute, which begins Oct. 7, Dr. C. T. McFarlane, principal of the State Normal school at Brockport, N. Y. Dr. McFarlane's specialty is geography.

Arbitrators Chosen.

W. W. Rooker, W. J. McCabe and Charles Scott have been chosen arbitrators in the case of John Haverly vs. Frank Haverly, an alienation of affections suit. The arbitrators will meet at the court house on Monday, Oct. 14.

TOWANDIAN TO THE FRONT.

Prof. David H. Childs Accepts Fine Position in Alfred University.

A newspaper published at Alfred, N. Y., where Alfred University is located, has the following to say of David H. Childs, son of E. A. Childs, who for a number of years was engaged in the shoe business in Towanda:

"Prof. D. H. Childs, a graduate of Lehigh University in 1898, has accepted a position here in the department of physics and chemistry recently filled by Prof. Wilcox. Prof. Childs for eight years has been head chemist and physicist for the Aluminum company of America whose principal works are located at Niagara Falls. Prof. Childs comes highly recommended for the position he is to occupy, and the university is exceedingly favored by securing a man of his ability and experience for the place. All the electrical and chemical work of the large establishment where he was employed was under his direction. Besides this, Prof. Childs's special work has been the training of chemists and physicists who have gone to other plants operated by the company, this line of instruction especially fitting him for this work here which he is well qualified to take up."

Champion Fishermen.

Allen Woodin and George Weaver were over to Mountain Lake Saturday and spent the day angling for bass, succeeding in capturing the finest string of blacks ever taken from water in this county. They caught nine bass which weighed 32 pounds. Two of the fish weighed over four pounds each. Mr. Woodin has, without a doubt, captured more big fish in Mountain Lake than any man that ever angled in those waters, having already this season before Saturday brought home several nice strings. It has been 22 years since the lake was stocked with bass, and some of the biggest fish in the state are believed to be in these waters.

No One Knew Him.

Bradford E. Aldrich, a well known Towandian has returned from a three weeks visit at his old home in Worcester county, Massachussetts. It has been 34 years since Mr. Aldrich bade good bye to relatives and friends in Massachussetts and came to Pennsylvania, and on his return after a third of a century absence, no one knew him, not even his relatives. He soon got acquainted and had a splendid time visiting among his relatives and old friends.

CHECKIST UP TO OLD TRICKS.

Hornell Grocer Still Waiting Until Farmer Finds Team.

Mr. Checkist, the smooth one, is up to his old tricks again, as is evidenced by the following from the Elmira Star-Gazette, under a Hornell date line:

"Mr. Smooth walked into the store clad in all the habiliments of a farmer. His white whiskers were streaked with tobacco juice and everything about him spoke of the farm.

"He told the merchant he lived at a nearby town and was going to have some threshers to feed at his house. He ordered a bill of groceries that came to just $30.

"In payment he tendered a $50 check. The $20 change was given him, and he went out to get his team. He is still looking for the team. The grocer has the goods and the bogus check, but he is minus the $20 in good money.

Big Auction Prices.

Ex-Sheriff Morris Shepard of Towanda, has a justly earned reputation for conducting public sales, but on Saturday of last week he fractured all previous records at the disposal of the household goods of the late William R. Sims of Troy. The goods inventoried at $165.35, but so keen were the collectors of that section of the county that $526.79 were realized.

Big Crowd at Meeting.

Sayre clinched its claim of being the banner prohibition town of Bradford county Thursday night, when an enormous crowd turned out to hear M. H. Stevenson, prohibition candidate for State treasurer speak. Grove Park theatre where the meeting was held was packed to the doors, and Mr. Stevenson delivered an address which brought forth much hearty applause.

Wysox Township Politics.

Politics in Wysox township are warming up, many candidates for the township offices are coming to the front. Robert Brown has announced himself a candidate for the office of township commissioner at the February election, which sets at rest the stories in circulation that he had declined to be a candidate.

Reported Holdup.

Charles Kinney reported to the night police about 2 o'clock Thursday morning that he had been held up and robbed of a dollar on the East end of the wagon bridge, a short time before. An investigation was made and the holdup theory was passed up as a myth.

FAMILY GATHERINGS.

May Reunion.

The 27th annual reunion of the May family was held at the home of Jerome B. May, at Rose Valley, Friday, Sept. 6. An ideal day and a large attendance made this an exceptionally pleasant gathering. Mr. May settled in this particular place many years ago, clearing a place for his house and laying the foundation for the establishment of one of the most sturdy and highly respected families in Northern Pennsylvania. Dinner was served to about 125 at 12 o'clock in a large tent erected near the house. After having partaken freely of the good things set before them, the president, Jefferson May, of Ridgebury, called the meeting to order. The first on the program was a song of greeting composed and sung by Mrs. Jennie Ayres of Canton:

1. Well, here we are dear ones, at last
Another year gone by;
To some it's been a year of pain,
To others only joy.
But when we meet our loved ones
From their homes so far away,
We always try to banish care and sorrow.

Chorus:—
Hurrah! hurrah! we'll shout the name of May,
Hurrah! Hurrah! we'll shout it all the day,
We have brought our baskets,
And we've come from far away
For 'tis our May reunion.

2. To all of those who do not know
Why we have come so far,
If they will listen just as still
I'll tell them who we are;
Away back many years ago,
How many I can't say,
There came into this country
A family called May.

3. We're descendants of that family
And we meet from year to year,
To hold our May reunion,
That is why we all came here;
So now you see I've told you
Why we left our homes today,
And met with our cousing in Rose Valley.

4. Now Uncle Jeff's the oldest
Of the Mays who meet each year,
No matter where we gather,
You'll be sure to find him there
With jolly ways and pleasant smiles
He'll greet us every one,
When we meet at our reunion.

5. Then here's Uncle Woodford,
And also Uncle John,
Of them I'll say a word or two
Before I close my song.
Two better men you'll seldom find,
you'll all with me agree
They're always full of jokes at our reunion.

6. Well, now dear ones, I'm hungry
And I'll find the pantry shelves,
So if you want another song
You'll have to sing yourselves;
I'm thoroughly disgusted
With myself and that's a fact,
To think I wrote a song on our reunion.

Recitations were given by Mrs. Nora May, Miss Mattie May, Mrs. Myrtle May; select reading by Miss Fila Case; remarks by each of the remaining brothers; report of the secretary and treasurer. An invitation given by Alvin May for the friends to meet at his home at Bentley Creek for the next reunion was unamimously accepted.

Anderson Reunion.

The fourth annual reunion of the Anderson family was held in Allen's grove at West Franklin, Sept. 7. The day was fine and about 50 relatives and friends gathered and partook of the bountiful dinner which was served under the direction of Mrs. I. W. Anderson, as chairman of table committee. After dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, I. C. Piatt, and a short program of music and recitations was rendered. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Then the officers for 1908 were elected as follows: President, George Schill; vice president, Alison B. Crandell; secretary, Theresa P. Anderson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Herman Crandell; treasurer, Willie Anderson; committee on arrangements, Martin Anderson, Austin Crandell and James Rockwell; committee on entertainment, Mrs. Austin Crandell; table committee, Mrs. Clarence Allen. There were four marriages during the past year: Cora Piatt and Harvey Tracy; Lloyd Anderson and Maple Green; Iva Anderson and Robert Selleck; Jennie Anderson and Harlow Willey; and the following births: To Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tracy, a daughter, and to Mr. and Mrs. George Schill, a son.

Post Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the descendants of Adarine Post was held in M. F. Smith's grove at Black on Thursday, Aug. 29. There were present about 100 members of the Post family from Scranton, Philadelphia, Sayre, Bernice, Ghent, Wysox, Towanda, Black, Wyalusing, Athens, Denver, Col., and Somerset, Mass., and a number of visitors. They came with baskets well laden. Thomas Price of Scranton, presented each member of the company with a handsome souvenir in the shape of a paper napkin with the place and date of meeting printed thereon. In the afternoon an elegant program was enjoyed: Song by all, Blest be the tie that binds; recitation, Mrs. J. R. Post; song, Lorraine Kingsley; Song, Pauline Kingsley; recitation, Lorraine Kingsley; song, YovielCullough; duet, Mrs. Staples and daughter Mina; recitation, Laura MacCullough; recitation, Pothier Shores; song, Yoviel MacCullough; recitation, by Walter Shores; song Geraldine Post; recitation, Seth Vargason. Then followed several speeches by Llewelyn Harris, T. G. Smith, J. R. Post, Lemuel Post and Leroy Fuller. Four soldiers of the civil war being present—namely Llewelyn Harris, Seth Vargason, Leroy Fuller and Oscar Shores made the woods resound the good old war song: "John Brown's Body." They followed election of officers as follows: Thomas Price, president; Horace Post, vice president; Mrs. Roland R. Moshier, secretary. It was decided that the next reunion would be held at the same place and on the last Thursday in August, 1908. At the close of this meeting all sang, "God be with you till we meet again." A photographer took the picture of the group.

Towner Reunion.

The fifth annual reunion of the descendents of Elijah Towner was held Saturday, Sept. 14, in L. W. Towner's grove. The day was an ideal one, which added much to the enjoyment of those who were there. At about 11 o'clock the people began to arrive and by the time the dinner gong sounded a large company were present. The Towner family know how to care for the "inner man" and the tables fairly groaned with tempting viands. When all were seated, they acknowledged their thankfulness by singing, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," after which Rev. L. L. Vought said grace. After dinner a short program consisting of music, recitations and addresses was rendered. The Towner family have long been noted for their musical ability and their talent was highly complimented and greatly appreciated. Those who rendered solos were Miss Ruth Buttles, Levi Towner, Miss Chaffee of New York, and Diana Russell, little Miss Myra Drake recited very nicely. L. W. Towner and Mrs. Bertha Burroughs rendered two duets and the whole company sang several gospel hymns. Addresses were given by L. L. Vought, pastor of the M. E. church at Orwell, and by F. J. Niles of Rome M. E. church. There were many from out of town, Mrs. Julia Towner of Chicago, A. L. Towner of Pittston, and seven of the children and gradchildren of Ernest Towner of Binghamton, relatives from Owego, Lestershire, Olean, LeRaysville, and Towanda. The company numbered about 175.

Allen Reunion.

The twelfth annual reunion of the descendants of the A. P. Allen family met at the usual place in G. L. Allen's grove on Saturday, Aug. 31. About one o'clock dinner was announced and 105 of the family and friends gathered around the tables that were laden with the many good things to eat. Dinner being over, business meeting was called to order by the president, H. H. Allen. The following afficers were elected: Vice president, F. H. Allen; treasurer, G. L. Allen; secretary, Flora Allen. Since the last reunion there has been one marriage—Lura Allen to Leon Pepper, on Dec. 12, 1906, and three births—to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haight, Nov. 10 1906, a son, Leon Ferris; to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Carman on Dec. 2, 1906, a daughter, Irene Naomi; to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Pepper, on Aug. 27, a daughter, and one death—Albert Allen, July 22, 1907. A short program was rendered by the following: A song by Eugene Lowe and Allene Nichols; a recitation by Emily Allen; a song by Mildred Swartwood, and a song by Mildred and Lura Haight, and a recitation by Harold Adams. After which all left for their respective homes hoping to be present in 1908.

The Ward Reunion.

The third annual reunion of the Ward family was held at the home of George Ward, at Gillett, on Saturday, Sept. 7. The day was fine and at 12 o'clock 69 relatives and friends had gathered. As the dinner hour approached the tables were spread and a fine repast was enjoyed by all. All having been served, the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mark Ward of Burlington. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mark Ward, Burlington; vice-president, James Ward, Waverly; secretary, Mrs. Helen Warner, Troy; treasurer, Milton Ward, Berrytown. After the business meeting a family history was read by Mrs. Arthur Warner. This proved very interesting, mentioning as it did every member of the family. Recitations were given by Wright Sheeley, Eleanor Watson and Orpha Ward, the latter being an original composition entitled, "Going to Cousin George's." The meeting in 1908 will be held at the home of George Ward at Thompson Hill, the first Saturday in September.

Gard Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the Gard family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gard on Saturday, Sept. 14. The day was perfect and the guests began to arrive early. Several of the relatives were absent owing to sickness. After dinner the company gathered in the parlor when the president, George Gard, called the meeting to order. The minutes of the last reunion were read and approved. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Walter Gard; vice president, J. Schultz; secretary, Gertrude Schultz. It was voted to hold the next reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Post, the second Saturday in Sept. 1908. There had been one birth since the last reunion.

Give us some of that dry weather we were grumbling about a few short weeks ago.

Mrs. Abigail Mosher Wilson, relict of Captain William R. Wilson, who was buried at Mosherville Tuesday, was for nearly half a century a resident of Wells. Mrs. Wilson's last illness was brief, less than one hour, passing away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Beaman at Troy, about 77 years of age. Mr. Wilson died about 35 years ago. He ate a hearty dinner then lay down for his usual nap and was found dead from heart disease about one hour afterwards. Mrs. Wilson was an estimable christian woman having joined the Presbyterian church at Elmira in 1850. Her husband served in the Civil war and was promoted to the rank of captain for gallant service. Mrs. Wilson was the mother of four children, all of whom grew to maturity, but two now deceased were Effie who married J. W. Beaman, and Edwin an only son, who died a few years ago. Two daughters now survive, Mrs. Fanny Beaman of Troy, and Mrs. Susan Blood of Elmira.

THE SIXTH RESERVES.

Twenty-Third Annual Reunion of the Association.

ENTERTAINED AT ATHENS.

Survivors of a Famous Fighting Organization, Among the First to Respond to Lincoln's Call, Talk Over Old Times.

It was a most fortunate decision, made at the 22d annual meeting of the Sixth Pennsylvania Reserves, held last year at East Smithfield, to go to Athens for the 1907 reunion and the election of Hon. O. D. Kinney was equally so. The place and the man were a most happy combination for never in the life of soldier's reunions anywhere could there have been a more successful issue. In fact it was a magnificent success.

Historic Athens is nothing if not patriotic. For weeks preparation had been made for the event. The town had been canvassed for provisions for a free dinner which had been so generously responded to, that we are credibly informed, after feeding substantially more than 300 old soldiers there was yet a great abundance left.

The banquet at the Elsbree Opera House was a most delightful and imposing function. The spacious auditorium was profusely and tastefully decorated with the national colors and the veterans and their guests were most charmingly served by 25 of the sweetest young ladies of the village clad in white with American flags for aprons. A white headed veteran who sat next to the writer, involuntarily began to hum after being served to escaloped potatoes by one of the pretty waitresses, "O, would I were a boy again."

A special table had been prepared for the Sixth at the head of which sat President Kinney and distinguished guests, while at the foot was Major W. H. H. Gore, the secretary. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Simpson, himself a veteran of the regular army, we are informed, and music by the Aeolean orchestra, the viands were served in the identical receptacle where hardtack and sow-belly had, aforetome, held feeble body and soul together. Then the feast of reason and the flow of soul. R. H. Holgate of the Sixth was the first speaker. He for many years has been a successful lawyer at Scranton. He was in his happiest vein. The Waverly quartette sang "We Are the Boys of '61," with "Tenting on the Old Camp Grounds," as an encore.

U. S. Senator Clapp of Minnesota, delivered a most eloquent oration which will not soon be forgotten. Although too young to have been a soldier of the Civil War yet he heartily appreciated the undying service they rendered. Mrs. Hull played inimitably on the violin the "Star Spangled Banner," which was uproariously received, eliciting an encore.

Major George W. Merrick of Wellsboro, past senior department commander of Pennsylvania G. A. R., who for more than 40 years has hobbled about on one leg, the other lost in battle, and who married a niece of our former distinguished townsman, Hon. David Wilmot, then spoke happily and read a local poem "The Potter County Veteran, or the Ballad of the Leek Hook."

Hon. J. Adam Bede of Minnesota, who has been dubbed the humorist of the House, then gave an address of half-hours duration which held his hearers spellbound.

Halsey Lathrop of Scranton, proudly known by the Sixth as "Our Halsey," was the next speaker, and he is always ready and apt. Our townsman, Hon. W. T. Davies, then spoke eloquently and feelingly. He complimented the citizens of Athens and especially the ladies, and then spoke of the great service of the Sixth at Gettysburg and elsewhere, and also of the 141st Regiment and its daring commander, Gen. Madill, formerly major of the Sixth.

After more than three hours at the banquet adjournment was had when the business meeting was held at G. A. R. hall, officers for the next year were elected as follows: President, George W. Merrick of Wellsboro; secretary and treasurer, D. B. Holiday of Wellsboro. After passing a resolution thanking President Kinney and the people of Athens for the pleasant time given them, the meeting adjourned to meet again next year in Wellsboro, where the 24th annual reunion will be held.

The festivities of the evening were most happily concluded by a reception at "Clover Croft," the beautiful and hospitable residence of Mr. Kinner. Everybody was invited and over 500 attended to greet the old soldiers and meet distinguished guests. Besides those mentioned from abroad were ex-Senator Newell of Towanda. Mr. Kinney, his gracious daughter, Mrs. Ahbe and ex-Lieutenant Governor Davies, were in the receiving line. During the evening choice refreshments were served and the Aeolean orchestra rendered a delightful program. Truly, in the words of a contemporary "it was one of the most thoroughly enjoyable functions ever given in Athens, its informality being its chief charm."

Of Hon. O. D. Kinney, his comrades of the Sixth may fittingly say in the words of Prior—

"Warm in the glorious interests you pursue,
And, in one word, a good man and a true."

Some of the struggling preachers might tell their stingy congregations that just because there are sermons in stones it doesn't follow that there are rocks in preaching.

CAN'T SWALLOW LIZARDS.

Science Dispels Old Fable That is Generally Believed.

"It is impossible for any one to swallow a lizard when drinking," claims State Economic Zoologist Surface, of Harrisburg. "And when you hear stories that people have swallowed lizards in that way, just put them down as moonshine." Dr. Surface is authority on all such subjects.

"On my desk," said Dr. Surface, "is a letter from a doctor in Berks county, who informed me some time ago that one of his patients had swallowed a couple of lizards while drinking at the spring. I asked him to send me the lizards. He complied, and along came a bottle containing what the doctor called lizards, and which, he averred, had come from the woman's stomach. I examined them closely and found them to be salamanders, not lizards.

"I gave one of the salamanders to my assistant and told him to examine the stomach to ascertain what the animal had been eating. If he found sauerkraut and pan haus, then I would agree that the salamander had been in the woman's stomach. He found plain, every-day woodflies and woodgnats, showing very plainly that the reptile had been feeding in the open air.

"I wrote to the doctor again, and the woman finally confessed that she had committed a fraud. It seems that she wanted to excite the sympathy of those around her. In order to do this she had caught the salamanders and placed them where they would be considered circumstantial evidence."

Fined $100 for Killing Deer.

Leroy Waller of Mehoopany, was before Justice of the Peace H. W. Bardwell of Tunkhannock, last Saturday on a charge of shooting and killing a deer on Nov. 17, 1906, with a shot gun and using double BB shot. The evidence was that he told two boys he killed the deer with shot but for the boys to keep still about it. After a full hearing the justice sentenced him to pay a fine of $100 and costs or one day in jail for each dollar of fine. An appeal was taken. W. E. Shoemaker, deputy game protector, was the prosecutor.

Wants to Die.

The Italian who cut his throat and then plunged through the window of a swiftly moving passenger train at Wysox last Wednesday morning, wants to die very badly. A Fairfield Center philosopher says that when a man admits that he has made a fool of himself he can't understand why the rest of the world doesn't share his astonishment.

One section of California last year received $198,000 for the product of 560 acres of strawberries.

He is a shortsighted farmer who to save a small amount in the repairing of farm buildings sacrifices twice or three times the cost of the repairs in the loss of stock.

We have found nothing better than mellow earth for banking up the house, while it is about the first soil to thaw in the spring and can be used in the hotbed the latter part of March.

Snow, sheiled corn and a barbed wire fence for outdoor shelter are not calculated to superinduce any particular gratitude or response in egg production on the part of one's flock of hens.

When a single load of wool will bring its owner a check for $700 it ought not to take the farmers of a community very long to realize that not only good but easy money can be made in raising sheep.

The potato storeroom should be dry, cool, dark and well ventilated. Where large quantities are piled together it is well to have a double floor beneath, with opportunity for ventilation at the walls and at intervals through the pile.

It is all too often the fellow who has fooled his summer away and has neither fuel nor food supplies as winter comes on that howls the loudest about his hard luck and unequal opportunity as compared with his more prosperous fellows.

Things are a trifle out of joint if the good housewife has to go to the horse mangers or corncrib of a morning to get kindling for the kitchen fire. A convenient supply of kindling and dry wood should be viewed as a necessity in every household.

The careful removal of the old weeds from the garden patch before they scatter all their seed will save a whole lot of stick work next spring and summer. The seed in a mature pigweed stands for a wheelbarrow load or so of young weeds next season.

With a stand of bees netting its owner annually from $5 to $10 a way would seem to be indicated for those so inclined to make a snug sum of easy money at beekeeping. A better combination could hardly be had than bees, fruit and poultry, and it is one that a good many are following.

While there is no justification whatever for a violation of the law and a disregard of the rights of others by autoists on the country roads, it is well for the women folk to take the most docile animal on the place for their trips to town on market day. The fractious or spirited horse would better be kept at work in the field or turned out to pasture.

Both the hardy catalpa and the black locust make excellent post material, the former making a serviceable post in from ten to twelve years and the latter in from eight to ten. In both cases the best results are secured where the tract on which they grow is given thorough cultivation, which insures a rapid and vigorous growth, and in the case of the latter tends to lessen the damage from the borer, which is its worst enemy.

Many districts of the western states which make a specialty of growing cantaloupes have been struck with a blight which seems to have been to some extent brought on and aggravated by rains and heavy dews and which does not seem to be materially checked by any spray that has yet been tried. Headway in fighting the disease seems to have been made chiefly along the line of a rotation of crops and the planting of disease resistant seed.

If the boys and girls are to get the best results out of their work at school they should be supplied with all of the required books and other necessary equipment. It is to be deplored that many people are handicapped for lack of these things and the work of the teacher greatly increased. It is worth while remembering that the same Providence which created flies provided most of the domestic animals with tails with which to switch them off.

A western Percheron breeder is working on the theory that just as favorable conditions and environment exist at home for the breeding of pure bred horses as are to be found in their native home in France. His theory, moreover, seems to work out in first rate shape, for he has just captured in the neighborhood of a dozen prizes in each of two big midwestern state fairs, in which he has shown his horses in competition with the best imported Percheron stock. It is also his belief that a good deal of the pure bred stock that is imported is really inferior, but that American buyers are eager to get it simply because it comes from across the water. This is an idea which it would seem worth while for horse breeders to take into account.

A PRESSING PROBLEM.

Seven-tenths of the forest area of the country is to be found in the southern states, and this comprises a grand total of 265,000,000 acres. Of this area one-fourth has already been stripped, and the destruction of the remaining three-fourths is being so rapidly accomplished that it is estimated that at the end of twenty years the white pine, which is one of the most valuable varieties of southern forest trees, will be exterminated. Another factor that is not always taken into account is the fact that in addition to the loss of the trees the soil will not in most cases bear any other crop, while stripped of its natural forest covering it will be loosened by the rains and be carried into the streams, whose uneven sources of water supply will cause floods and a deficient water power. There is no forestry problem before the country today that surpasses in importance that involved in the care and proper handling of these magnificent southern forest reserves.

HORSE PASTURE FENCES.

The inclosure which is intended for use as a horse pasture should have the fences which inclose it equipped in some way for the protection of the horses, especially if they are made of barbed wire. This may be done by running a board around the pasture close to or just above the top wire. While this may be expensive as a starter, it is well to remember that with the prices of horses where they are at present one animal would pay for a good many rods of fencing.

Unless the boy and girl have an endowment of good horse sense there is mighty little use in sending them away to an agricultural college or a domestic science school to put on the finishing touches. We know of a chap who after he had taken a course in the state agricultural school decided he would begin farming on a small scale by building a stone wall around his farm, a job that would have taken him the rest of his natural life, and go into the poultry business in a modest way with 1,500 hens. He was probably first cousin of the girl who after she had taken a course in domestic science and had become expert in all of the culinary frills thought it was impossible to make ice cream unless the ice was cracked up in a burlap bag. However, technical education combined with common sense and some practical experience is a combination which is hard to beat.

A north Iowa pigeon grower often has in his cots as many as 10,000 birds, which he raises for supplying the needs of trap shooters and for use as food. His feeding operations are naturally on a large scale, and he buys his grain in carload lots on the Minneapolis and Chicago markets.

When a tree is dead or sick unto death the sooner an ax is laid at the root the better. The other day we passed a place where there was a whole row of the arboreal corpses, and the contrast was all the more striking because of the well kept and thrifty row of trees on the opposite side of the road.

There are many western orchardists who lose a large per cent of the value of their apple crops through a failure to make an economical disposal of the byproducts or unmarketable fruit. The evaporator, the cider outfit and a drove of hogs to run in the orchard at intervals and pick up the wormy windfalls are means that every large apple grower should have at his disposal.

Twenty years ago North Dakota farmers were so devoted to grain farming that many of them did not even produce their own butter, eggs and various garden vegetables. Through the efforts of J. J. Hill of the Great Northern railroad they were gradually led to diversify their farm crops and raise the stuff they needed for their own consumption, with the result that today the state produces as diversified crops as any other.

Honesty is not only the best policy, but many times has a value in dollars and cents. The man who has established a reputation for square dealing and goods that are right is bound to have plenty of buyers at the highest market price for any produce he may happen to have, while the fellow whose measures are known to be short and who puts nice fruit on the top of the basket and runty stuff in the middle not only has a hard time in finding buyers, but will have to take a lower price because of his shady methods.

A Connecticut farmer in giving his experience with alfalfa states that during a period of three years he has secured a total yield of forty-seven tons of this valuable hay off a three and a half acre tract of land. It will be a fortunate thing for the whole country if a type of alfalfa can be discovered which will do well not only in the warmer, semiarid sections of the country, but in the more moist and colder portions of the northern states. Where introduced it becomes the badge of a rejuvenated soil fertility and of an all around agricultural prosperity.

In view of the fact that a bushel of seed corn of average sized kernels will plant eight acres, the great value and importance of good seed corn and the corresponding worthlessness of that which is poor ought to be observed at a glance. It is well to keep this situation in mind when the time comes for selecting the seed this fall. The earliest maturing as well as the most perfect ears should be secured by Oct. 15, which will give time in which to get them thoroughly dried out before the heavy freezes of early winter come on. If the job is left until husking time it involves a speculation that one is not justified in indulging in.

SUICIDE AND RELIGION.

To those who hold that our human life is something more than an accident or joke there comes the thought that the large number of suicides, accounts of which appear with such frequency in the daily press and of which there seems to have been almost an epidemic during the past few months, are the outgrowth of an entirely wrong and distorted philosophy of life which seems to offer no anchor or stay in time of trouble beyond the material and transient possessions and resources of our earthly existence. In times of deep discouragement and sorrow such material things offer no real solace or comfort, and unless one is buoyed up by something which is abiding and spiritual, beyond the reach of chance and change, he is quite likely to become a shipwreck on life's ofttimes cheerless sea. It is in such times of depression that one's religion, if it is of the genuine sort, comes into play and furnishes the uplift and comfort to tide one over the "blues" and periods of misfortune. Suicide was considered a justifiable resort in the solving of the riddle of existence until the Christian religion gave a new meaning and dignity to human life. No philosophy or religion known to men contains such words of good cheer and encouragement as those of the Master, who understood poor, weak human nature as no one else has ever understood it and who said, "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest," and who on another occasion said, "I came that ye might have life and that ye might have it more abundantly." There is need of this gospel of comfort and good cheer not only in the home circle, with its multiplicity of perplexing cares and responsibilities, but in the office, the factory, the shop and on the farm. It is the cure of soul sickness and pessimism, a governor in hours of happiness and an anchor that always holds when the winds blow and the tempest threatens to overwhelm.

A SENSIBLE MAN.

We have in mind a man who, after devoting forty of the best years of his life to the strenuous work and responsibilities to be found on a 200 acre farm, decided some three years ago to move to town and spend the remaining years of life in ease and comfort, which both on his own part and that of his good wife have been well earned and deserved. The work on the farm has been turned over to his son, and the father's present connection with it is only supervisory. The place in town our friend bought is nicely located, and both the grounds and house are of an attractive and commodious type. The time that he formerly spent in cutting his meadows is now devoted to keeping the lawn shipshape and the trees trimmed up while that before consumed in tilling the farm crops is now spent in caring for a vegetable garden and numerous flower beds which adorn the lawn. It goes without saying that the indoor work is less arduous for the wife and daughters than it was on the farm, they being relieved of the care of the poultry, the dairy and the extra work of boarding the farm help. The move to town has also enabled them to take advantage of better school, church and educational privileges. This friend and his family are sensible, and, while the same thing is being done by many others similarly situated financially, by many it is not done at all or is postponed until the capacity to appreciate and realize upon the advantages of the change seems to be virtually lost. A doctrine that needs preaching much more than it is practiced today is that we should get enjoyment out of life for ourselves and put enjoyment into life for others more every day as we go along. A postponed good or happiness, like an uncashed check, is not worth a continental from any rational standpoint of value.

Experience teaches that, as a rule, things are likely to turn out just a little better than one anticipates, a condition that is especially noticeable in those who are of a somewhat pessimistic state of mind. A fact often forgotten is that optimism is every way better than pessimism, for the optimist gets some enjoyment out of the anticipation even if the realization of his hopes is not all that he looked for, while the person of a pessimistic frame of mind gets a double dose, both in the matter of anticipation and realization.

Every farmer who is conducting business extensively should own a pair of standard scales, a precaution that during a course of years may save him more than their original cost, while the convenience in having them on the premises can hardly be estimated.

DARING BURGLARS.

Aged Couple in Susquehanna County Bound and Gagged

OVER $600 IN CASH SECURED.

Sensational Robbery Took Place Near Hickory Grove Early Monday Morning—Reign of Crime Exists in That Section.

Early Monday morning Harvey Cole, an aged farmer and his wife, residing near Hickory Grove, in Susquehanna county, were awakened by some one pounding heavily on the door. He arose and inquired who was there and a man's voice replied that a neighbor was seriously ill and that his assistance was needed. Upon hearing this Mr. Cole opened the door and was confronted by three masked men each armed with a revolver. Two of the men seized Mr. Cole and bound him hand and foot. After gagging him and leaving him in a corner the men started to ramsack the house.

While at work the robbers were suddenly surprised by Mrs. Cole, who had been awakened. She dealt one man a heavy blow over the head with a chair and had succeeded in holding the other man at bay, when the third man who had been at work in an adjoining room, came up back of her unawares and dealt her a severe blow on the head with a blackjack. Mrs. Cole was rendered unconscious.

All this time Mr. Cole lay bound in the corner and although he saw the man strike down his wife he was powerless to help her. The burglars kept on ransacking the house and after securing about $600 in cash and a quantity of silverware and jewelry, they departed. A short time after their departure Mrs. Cole regained consciousness. Although somewhat dazed from the effects of the stinging blow she received, she made her way to where her husband lay bound and gagged and liberated him.

Mr. Cole soon aroused his nearest neighbor and a search was begun, but no trace of the men was found. It is thought that the men were probably the same ones who attempted to enter the home of Frederick Nitchke at Great Bend last week, but were frightened away.

Several minor burglaries have occurred in Susquehanna during the past week. On Saturday burglars entered the home of Mrs. Kane on West Main street, but did not secure anything.

On Friday night it is stated an attempt was made to enter the Laurel Hill academy, but the Sisters heard the noise and the would-be burglars were frightened away.

Last Saturday night or early Sunday morning burglars tried to force an entrance to the home of Robert Terboss in Susquehanna, but were unsuccessful.

ELECTRIC SHOCK CAUSES DEATH

Result of Autopsy Performed by Doctors On Frank Solick.

"Electric shock" are the words found in the death certificate describing the cause of the death of Frank Solick, who was killed at the Lehigh shops last Saturday morning, says the Athens News.

"This decision was reached Saturday night after an autopsy had been performed on the body by doctors M. C. Hunter and C. J. Cummings. The autopsy was performed at the request of both the railroad officials and the family of the deal man. In examining the body two seared burns such as are made by coming in contact with a charged elctric wire were found. How these came there could not be told unless the man leaned against a charged wire. The heart was examined, and was found to be an exceptionally strong one, and precluded any idea that the death was caused by any affection of the vital organ. It was a trifle large, but the walls were very strong and in a healthy condition. The condition of the blood also showed that electricity was probably what caused death. Asphyxiation from gas would cause a similar condition, but in the absence of any such surrounding condition at the time of death the electric shock was the only probable cause. The blood was dark, and had not coagulated. One side of the heart was very full of the vital fluid while the other was practically empty.

"The autopsy was performed last Saturday night by the two doctors and finally settles the cause. The death certificate is made out and signed by Dr. M. C. Hunter."

FRESH CORNELL STUDENT FINED

Paid Fifty Plunkers for Insulting an Ithaca Lady on the Street.

A $50 fine was imposed Monday on Robert DeLamere Cutter, son of M. B. Cutter, general manager of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, and a senior at Cornell, for insulting a Mrs. Arthur Wallenbeck, wife of an an Ithaca policeman, Saturday. Cutter, with several companions, was parading State street when Cutter grasped Mrs. Wallenbeck by the arm, saying, "you look good to me," and started to pull her up the street.

She resisted and ran to an officer, who immediately put the son of the magnate in a cell and Monday morning pleaded guilty. Recorder Sweetland gave him a scathing lecture, declaring that Cornell University could have no use for men like him and warned him that the extreme penalty would be imposed against him if he was again disorderly. Cutter is a prominent fraternity man.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

County Treasurer.

To the Voters of Bradford County:—

Gentlemen—Two years ago I circulated two petitions, one asking your County Judge to reduce the price paid for boarding county prisoners from 40 cents to 25 cents per day; the other asking that the fees paid the county treasurer be reduced from $4200 to $1500 per year. The petitions praying for relief from exhorbitant expenditures on these two items, signed by about 5000 taxpayers, were properly presented. The Court did his part, granted the request of the taxpayers as to boarding the prisoners and fixed the price of 25 cents per day. The Board of County Commissnoners and Auditors, a majority of whom were pledged to reduce the fees paid the County Treasurer to $1500 per year, met, and instead of reducing the fees as pledged, fixed the compensation at about $3,000 per year, and put forth the argument that the question of reducing the compensation had not been made an issue before the caucus with notice to the candidates.

I firmly believe that our taxes are unnecessarily high and that $1500 per annum is a sufficient compensation for the County Treasurer, and to bring the matter squarely before the taxpayers of Bradford County, I announce myself a candidate for the office of County Treasurer under Republican rules, and publicly assert if elected that I will discharge all the duties appertaining to said office, and not charge or accept a sum total greater than $1500 per year, and will present a petition to the proper board asking for said reduction in the sums paid to the County Treasurer, such change to take place January 1st, 1909. If you favor reducing the taxes in this item, also in other channels, I respectfully solicit your support and influence at the primaries on April 11, 1908. FRANK N. MOORE.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Cutaway Coat Designed by May Manton—No. 5765.

Unquestionably the cutaway coat is a favorite of the season, and exceedingly smart and attractive it is. This one is well adapted both to immediate wear and to the coming autumn, as it can be made either with the three-quarter or long sleeves. The material is chiffon broadcloth, with collar and cuffs of velvet, the seams being simply stitched with belding silk. Every suiting material is appropriate, however, and the coat is also a pretty one for the separate wrap, and, severe and simple as it is, there are a number of variations that can be made. Collar and cuffs can be of the material, while their edges and those of the coat are bound with braid, or the sleeves can be made long and the cuffs omitted, leaving a perfectly plain coat sleeve. There are pockets that are both smart and convenient, and the little coat is one altogether to be commended from every point of view.

The coat is made with fronts and side fronts, side backs and underarm gores. The flat Tuxedo collar finishes the neck, and the pockets are inserted. The sleeves are made in two pieces each and are laid in plaits at the shoulders.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4 yards 27, 2¾ yards 44 or 2¾ yards 52 inches wide, with one-half yard of velvet for collar and cuffs.

Sizes for a 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inch bust.

KNIFE PLAY AT LOPEZ

Boozrfest Ended in Quarrel and Serious Slashing Affray.

ONE MAN WILL PROBABLY DIE.

Thomas Conlon, a Woodsman, Stabs Two Companions, After Which He Escapes Into the Timberland, Followed by a Posse.

William Allen of Plymouth, was probably fatally stabbed, and Walter Lane, of Hazleton, less seriously wounded by Thomas Conlon of Plymouth, during a drunken quarrel at Lopez Friday evening. All three men are woodsmen employed at Ricketts. Conlon has escaped, but a posse is in pursuit.

All Were Intoxicated.

The three men went to Lopez Friday. They drank heavily during the day and were all intoxicated in the evening. Between 8 and 9 o'clock, while at the Lehigh Valley station, a quarrel was started and finally Conlon became so infuriated that he drew out a long knife and stabbed both of the other men.

Allen Badly Hurt.

Allen was badly gashed in the throat and is not expected to recover. He was taken to the Lopez hotel and later to the hospital at Wilkes-Barre. He is in a critical condition. Lane was struck in the fleshy part of the arm and an artery was severed. The wound bled profusely, but it is not a serious one.

Conlon Made for the Wods.

Conlon made good his escape going to Ricketts, where he was seen during the night. He evidently then made for the wooded section around that place with which he is familiar, and which offers a good chance for concealment. A posse has been organized and is trying to locate him. All three of the men are young.

Jakeway, Mrs. F. C. Page, C. B. Tyrell, Miss Christiana Boehm, H. B. Bressler, Mrs Ned Cole, Miss May Carmer, Frank Griswold, Miss Elizabeth MacMorran, and Mrs. Bird, organizer.

Joint Agreement Filed.

A certified copy of the joint agreement of consolidation of the Pittsburg, Binghamton and Southern Railroad company, entertd into May 17, 1907, has been filed with the county clerk at Binghamton. The original was filed in 1904, with the secretary of state. The consolidated capital stock is now $3,180,000,000, and the name of the road to be the former, and the filing of the paper in Broome county is made necessary by reason of the decision to build in New York state at once.

Tip for Lawyers.

It is said of John C. Bostelman, who has lately taken up the practice of law in Corning, after many years of absence from the bar, as a musician, that he once won an important case by his almost matchless playing of the violin. While not a few men have given up the law in these years of little litigation, Mr. Bostelman seems to see in it a surer, more congenial livelihood than by a longer exclusive indulgence of his strong musical bent.

Increased Valutions.

Potter county Commissioners have raised the assessed valuation of lands of the Goodyear Lumber company and the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company from $30 and $40 an acre to $100 and $150. The companies took the matter to court but afterward withdrew the case and agreed to pay the tax. It is estimated the county will gain $15,000 per year from the increase.

Charter Issued.

By order of the court on Saturday, a charter was issued and presented to the Towanda Improvement society, and this body which seeks the improvement and betterment of Towanda is now a regularly organized society.

Early Sunday Morning Fight in South Towanda May Result in Murder

"Monkey Jim" Vanderpool, one of the most notorious members of the pool tribe, lies perhaps fatally wounded at the home of his brother-in-law, Curtis Vanderpool, in South Towanda. Curtis Vanderpool is in the county jail and makes no denial of slashing "Monkey Jim" claiming to have done it in self defense, alleging to have been attacked by his brother-in-law during a quarrel over a board bill. The details of the fray are horrible in the extreme.

Late Sunday night Dr. Mingos would not say that the wounded man would survive, as he was in a very bad condition from the loss of blood.

Quarreled Over Board Bill.

Curtis Vanderpool and his wife, who is a sister of "Monkey Jim" live in a house in South Towanda on the lower road at a point a short distance North of Hagerman's flouring mill. "Monkey Jim" and his wife, who is known locally as Lily May, have been boarding with Curtis and his wife.

According to the story told by both Lily May and Mrs. Curtis Vanderpool which is also corroborated by Curtis, the slasher, himself, the trouble started with a quarrel over a board bill. "Monkey Jim" and Curtis has been up town Saturday night, taking in the sights, and imbibing in the juice of joys. Both Men were somewhat intoxicated when they reached home, and it was not long until the matter of Jim and Lily May's board was brought up, Curtis alleging that Jim had agreed to pay $2.50 per week in advance, and so far had paid only $1.90 which he could no longer stand for, in view of the fact that eatables and the necessities of life were so high in price.

One word brought on another, and "Monkey Jim" who at times prides himself on his ability as a scrapper began to throw himself in several different directions. Curtis alleges that he was in bed when his boisterous brother-in-law became worked up in the board bill debate, and just as he was trying to forget the high prices and other things, "Monkey Jim" landed on his prostrate form, and was lining up to do it again when he leaped from the bed, secured his jack knife and went after him.

Terrible Wounds Inflicted.

When the fight ended, the Vanderpool home was a gory sight. "Monkey Jim" lay on the floor with his life's blood gushing from four ugly wounds, while the walls, and everything in the room was bespattered with blood.

Satisfied with the way he had subdued his beligerent brother-in-law and alarmed at the horrible work he had done with his knife, Curtis ran around the neighborhood, aroused the people and told them what he had done. Many hurried to the scene of carnage, and were appalled by the ghastly scene in the Vanderpool home.

Dr. Mingos was summoned and on his arrival found "Monkey Jim" in a bad way, with four terrible knife wounds in his body. In the left hip there was a gash in which the doctor could place his whole hand, and which bled very profusely. There were three other bad cuts, one very deep below the left shoulder blade and the other nearly in the middle of the back. Besides these wounds there was a deep gash in the right chest. It was nearly an hour after the cutting took place, before medical assistance was summoned and the wounded man had lost a great quantity of blood being very weak and in greaf agony.

Slasher Submitted to Arrest.

Constable Fenner arrived on the scene a short time after the affray and took charge of Curtis Vanderpool who submitted to arrest without a murmer. The prisoner was brought to the county jail and locked up where he will be held pending the outcome of the wounds of his victim.

Sunday morning, Chief of Police Miller, Constable Hollon and a member of the detatchment of State Constabulary now spending a week in Towanda, visited the scene of trouble and were told the story of the affray by Lily May and Mrs. Curtis Vanderpool substantially as given above. The Vanderpool home had been scrubbed in several places to remove the blood stains, but the marks of gore were still visible.

Stabbed Before.

"Monkey Jim" has been stabbed before. Last spring on South Main street, he had some trouble with Jim Faney, an Italian, and while he was not looking, Faney stuck a knife in his back, inflicting a serious wound. Faney is now in the Huntington reformatory, having been sent there for that deed.

SEVERED JUGULAR VEIN THEN PLUNGED FROM TRAIN IN EFFORT TO SUICIDE.

Frank Koblask, an Italian, Makes Sensational, But Unsuccessful Attempt to Break Loose From the Thread of Life.

The most sensational, determined and horrible method of suicide ever attempted in Bradford county, was made by Frank Koblask an Italian, who endeavored to break loose from the thread of life Wednesday morning. Koblask severed his jugular vein with a knife, then pluged head first through a window of Lehigh passenger train No. 8, as it was speeding along at the rate of 50 miles an hour near Wysox. That Koblask lived to sit up and notice things after performing the terrible stunt is a wonder, and the fact that he has a fighting chance to hold on to the life which he would leave, is nothing short of miraculous.

His Sensational Stunt.

Train No. 8, on which Kobalsk was riding was an hour and forty minutes late on leaving the Towanda station at 10:53. On the straight track through Wysox the train was speeding along at the rate of 50 miles an hour. Kobalsk was in the third coach from the engine and was sitting in a seat in about the middle of the coach.

Just as the train neared the upper creamery in Wysox, he was seen to arise from his seat, and with a horrible, sickly expression on his face, he slowly opened the blade of a large sharp pocket knife such as Italians carry. An instant later he jabbed the blade in the right side of his throat, and with the blood streaming from a ragged gash, he turned toward the window, and without waiting gave a leap, head first against the glass. The passengers were horrified to see him disappear through the window.

The train was stopped, and as it backed up Koblask was seen to arise from the track, after which he sit down on the rail of the west bound track. He was taken on board the train and at the Wysox depot he walked into the station without assistance.

Horrible Spectacle.

Koblask was a horrible spectacle when he entered the depot. Blood was gushing from the wound in his neck, his scalp was torn, face cut and lacerated, and he appeared like anything but a human being. Dr. T. Ben Johnson was summoned from Towanda, and he gave the injured man medical attention. Upon examination, the doctor found that besides severing the external juglar vein with the knife, Koblask in plunging from the speeding train, had alighted on his head between two ties on the west bound track, crushed in the right side of the head, broke the shoulder, and four or five ribs on the right side, in addition to numerous other injuries.

Never Lost Consciousness.

With all these frightful injuries, the Italian never lost consciousness. He seemed dazed but that was all. He refused to talk other than to say his name was "Frank Koblask." His injuries being of such a serious nature. Dr. Johnson ordered his removal to the Packer hospital. The first west bound freight train was stopped and Koblask was put on board and taken to Sayre. The hospital doctors think he has a fighting chance for the life which he seemed so anxious to blot out.

Little or nothing is known of Koblask, who evidently wanted to die very badly. Where he boarded the train cannot be learned, but it is believed that it was at Sayre. He was bound for New York from which port he was to have sailed for his old home in sunny Italy on Saturday.

Condition Critical.

The condition of Frank Koblask, the Italian who severed his exterior jugular vein and then plunged through a window ~~of train No. 8, near Wysox~~ Wednesday forenoon, is in a critical condition at the Packer hospital. He has a compound fracture of the skull in addition to his other injuries. The doctors have no hope for him.

Six horses were roasted to death in a barn fire in Elmira Wednesday night. One team was valued at $500.

HIS LIFE SNUFFED OUT

Frank Solick Instantly Killed In Sayre Shops Saturday

CLUTCHED CHARGED RAIL.

Unfortunate Young Man Was Climbing From Pit, Took Hold of Rail and Was Electrocuted—Investigation Being Made.

A fatal accident occurred in the new Lehigh shops at Sayre, Saturday morning, Frank Solick, a young employee of the shops being instantly killed. The Times-Record of Sayre, gives the following account of the accident:

"Clasping a rail at the edge of pit No. 40 in the Lehigh system shops Saturday morning, Frank Solick quivered, stiffened, an instant later he was dragged to th ebottom of the pit by Frank Drake, struck on the back of his head and when his fellow workman had carried him to the Robert Packer hospital it was found that he was dead.

"A mystery surrounds the sudden passing which will not be cleared until the officers of the new shops have made a thorough investigation. The workmen claim he was electrocuted and the shop officers say that electrocution was impossible.

"Mr. Solick and Mr. Drake were under an engine on pit No. 40 at shortly before 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning and they had just completed some repairs to a water pipe. The pit is about four feet deep, is made of concrete and on either side has railroad rails. On the rails an engine was standing. Bent over under the engine, after completing the work on the water pipe, Solick walked to the pilot, where he was able to straighten his body. He reached for the railroad rail and the front of the pilot to assist himself in climbing to the shop floor. Then Drake saw Solick's body stiffen and drop forward against the edge of the pilot. One leg seemed to relax and twist backward around the other. Moving as rapidly as possible Drake grabbed Solick and he claims at that instant he received a quick but short shock of electricity. Both men fell heavily to the floor of the pit with Drake on top and he thinks he then received two more electric shocks. The back of Solick's head just above where the neck and the head join struck with great violence on the concrete floor. Drake seemed to recover instantly from the shock he had received and was able to climb from the pit without assistance. Solick was dragged from the pit, placed on a stretcher and carried with all possible speed to the hospital. The physicians of that institution at once pronounced him dead. It is probable that life had passed before he was pulled from the pit although he gasped once while being placed on the stretcher.

"While the workmen were carrying their companion to the hospital the officers of the Lehigh shops commenced an investigation to determine the cause of death. M. A. Roach the shop electrician tested the rail which Solick grasped and found it was carrying a current of less than 120 volts, not sufficiently strong to kill a human being. In the pit was a wire carrying an electric current to an incandescent light, which was being used on the interior of the engine and the insulation on this wire may have worn off and the wire thus came in contact with the rail. Mr. Roach insists that the rail could not have carried an excessively heavy current for the reason that it was not in contact with any other rail in the shop and thus could not have conveyed a current from a distance. He further insists that the only wire that could have come in contact with at particular rail was the one carrying the electric light current which was not strong enough to cause death. But the fact remains, however, that Solick clutched the rail, that he received a shock that caused his body to stiffen, that Drake was also shocked while trying to assist Solick and that both men fell to the floor of the pit together and at about that instant Solick was dead. The officers of the shop claim that the blow on the back of Solick's head must have been the direct cause of death.

"The physicians at the Robert Packer hospital do not agree with the officers of the Lehigh shops that death was due to the injury to Solick's head. They found, upon making an examination that there was a deep gash to the back of his head but the skull beneath was not fractured. The physicians say the man was undoubtedly electrocuted. Justice Nelson was called to act as deputy coroner and after viewing the remains the family requested J. W. Grumme, the undertaker, to prepare the body for burial.

"Dr. M. C. Hunter examined the body during the afternoon. He stated that death was not caused by the injury at the back of the head. He found the gash to be only about an inch in length and the skull was not fractured beneath. Even if the skull had been fractured death, according to the physicians, would not have resulted so quickly. Dr. Hunter was asked, 'What then was the cause of death?' 'I am unable to answer that question after making so limited an examination,' was the reply. Justice Nelson asked him what to do in regard to making a death certificate and Dr. Hunter told him to certify that death was due to accident. Dr. Hunter was positively sure that the death was not caused by the injury to the head, but he could find no marks on the exterior surface of the body made by electricity.

"At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon the Lehigh officers had finished a series of three tests made on pit No. 40. They placed everything as nearly as possible in the position occupied at the time of the accident. Then they claim the tests showed that the electric current from the light wire had entered the engine, on account of a broken spot on the holder of the electric lamp and had charged the entire engine and the rail. They further claim that the three tests showed a voltage of between 90 and about 110, the maximum current at any instant not quite reaching 110 volts. Then after making the tests the officers say they decided that Solick was not electrocuted.

"Frank Solick, the victim of the accident, was born in Frenchtown, Asylum township, being the son of English parents. He passed his boyhood days there. About four years ago he went to Sayre and entered the employ of the Lehigh, being engaged in placing brass gaskets on engines. He was a skillful workman and was highly esteemed by his fellow employees in the shops. About three years ago he married Miss Pearl Denton of Homets Ferry, and they took up their residence in Sayre. The wife but no children survive."

Seventy Years a Preacher.

Rev. Thomas Mitchell recently spent a Sunday in Eaton, Pa., the place of his nativity. The Eaton correspondent of the Tunkhannock Republican and New Age, which is published just across the river from Eaton, has this to say: "As previously announced, church services at the Baptist church were conducted by Rev. Thomas Mitchell of Troy, Sunday morning. Mr. Mitchell has not lived among us for 67 years, nevertheless Eaton people have an exceedingly cordial welcome for the aged gentleman, and this season his visit is doubly interesting owing to the fact that it is his anniversary year with us, born in our township 90 years ago and entering the preaching work 70 years ago in Eaton. He is remarkably preserved for a man of his years, and his sermon was greatly enjoyed by all present. The congregation was well made up of prominent professional men of Tunkhannock with their families."

How to Prevent Potato Scab.

A Lycoming county farmer, who raised this year a fine crop of pototoes, without a trace of scab or rot, gives what he believes to be the reason for his clean crop. He soaked the seed for ninety minutes in a solution of two ounces corrosive sublimate to fifteen gallons of water. Put the potatoes in a sack and hang in the solution, then take out, dry them and plant. He uses about 200 pounds of murate of potash to the acre, and this year the yield will be about 300 bushels on two acres.

Deer Among the Cattle.

At a farm below South Williamsport a deer was found eating with the cattle in a barnyard the other morning. When an effort was made to catch it, it leaped over the fence and made its way to the woods. It is not known how the deer came there, but it is thought it had been chased by dogs during the night.

"For years I have suffered with inflammation and constant pain in the bladder and kidneys, and have gradually grown worse and expected at any time that passing urine by nature's effort would cease.
